Not Just Another
Yearbook
Copperdome 84

John,
I guess you been I nice person during the years we've spent together at SHS. I must say you kept me laughing with that halitons laugh of yours. Good luck in the future. Hope to see you after graduation.
Love ya, Malore Brown

John!
How are ya? How are ya?
How are ya? Just think it weren't for Polia + from - I would know
never - maybe someday
you don't will carry work up my larning
see you around this summer? Love Amy (Thriller)
P.S. I might end up going to Macalester - so maybe see you in a year!

Dear John -
whoa, we've had a few bops, but nows the real doppin' time. Sommer! Hey!
I have to give you the greatest laugh, although you did it more in French I. ☺ Let's do something these hot months, and have a great college year!

Love,
Jenny

(Mr. Murphy)
I'm really happy to know that we've gotten you're very fun to be around, and I have a great time
you. Let's spend some time together this summer, if you're not working constantly.
I'll miss you next year!
We can ♥ embrace! year!
Trivial Pursuit
Jennie
or something.

John,
I'm really glad we were bros
in Joseph, you helped me
alot in meeting other people.
I miss you and I hope someday will meet again
JOSEPH, FOREVER!

John
It's been a fun year,
like cheese fondue, egg-wash,
and sex in poetry. Lots of luck (bonne chance) and good wine,
Missy

Murph-these past 4 years have really fast, but I don't my what I'm really sad to leave SHS. We've had some a really good times together. You're go out more though. I think we should see you this summer. French was fun.

Dear John,
I am really glad to have met you this year. I really had fun in prom.
I will really miss you a lot. I hope you can come and visit me in Egypt some time.
Maybe we can also keep in touch. I will give you my address. You are one of the nicest people I met this year whom I will never forget. I would not say good-bye but I will just say see you later.
Love,
Dalisa

John- What do I say to a graduate senior? I could say "Good luck,"
"Have fun," but you probably will, regardless of what I say.
So- I will say- I'm glad I met you this year, you're really fun & I like you a lot.
I only hoped that I could have gotten to know you better & we could have done some things together- Ah, well- Such is life. Since I won't see you this summer- have a good one & I'll see you when you visit Shorewood next year.

Love,
Jennifer

John, it's been great knowing you in a class with you as a very intelligent and nice person.

Friend Always Debra

25.
Good to meet you!

John,
It's been a fun-out year. I'm glad that I got to know you at least a little. I will uphold your high standards as blood &-day chairman. so I'm having a rush as at I mean I am rushed so I will sign off for now.

-> ever so sincerely yours,
Dennis

John-
I've had a great year, and I'm glad we've spent some time together-I hope to see you a lot this summer. Good luck at Macalaster sp? next fall- I'm sure you'll love it! Keep in touch, John! Love
Dana

John-

What can I say? We've been buddies for 3 years now (ooo!)
We have had so much fun in french class and out hopping!
You're really a great guy. We have to get together lots this summer to do fun stuff. I'm going to miss you so much next year-I mean that. But I will be visiting you at Macalester next year (O.K. w/you?) and it will be a blast!!!

Love
(Em)

hi John
all "my" seniors are leaving... I am very sorry to see you go. Showcase sound room was a memorable experience - I will fondly recall it
everytime I hear Cats or am forced to listen to Flashdance.
You were such a helpful bookstore person, and a really neat person - I'm going to miss you in my math classes.

have a great life
and a fun summer

De-ar
Johnnie!
Be good. Be good!
We'll be good!
Kind of fun. Not really - cause you always stand me in
up. But I'll see you the twin cities. We can party together. OK Buddy?
Good Luck!
Love,
Katie

Ah yes, Mr. Murphy...

Out the year, was it not? From the day we tried to Conejito's and got carded to the day I will shake your hand goodbye and drink one more toast to our friendship. Thanks for all the memories you've given me to remember, all of which I've already mentioned. You're a real swell guy, and I'm sure you'll always be. Even when we've have our bachelor's pad in New York 5-6 years from now. Good Luck at Macalester. I know an awesome woman there who, uh, er, well... let's keep in touch, let's keep on toasting!

Dear John,

There's so much to say... You have always been lunch in the front hall w/ you, Diane, Tom, Susie, Sam

There were so many times in Barnum when you were with laughter. God! What a great time that was! Remember

El Caldaron's Jenni, Helene, Anje, Ann P. and I don't remember one of the Barnum shows? You are a unique individual and your character continues to grow in this same way into you in 10 years and see what an incredible man turned out to be! You've got so much to feel confident you keep this in mind next year when you are blessed by your presence, because if you do, you will knock them dead, and leave a legend when you graduate. I love you dearly, and am afraid that I don't tell you this often enough. Good luck sweetie!

Love always,

Soccer In Spotlight

"Soccer for Homecoming?" was a common question heard throughout the SHS student body and the Milwaukee area this fall. Because its varsity football team had not met academic requirements, Riverside was forced to drop the sport, creating a problem for our Homecoming football game. Questions such as: "Should Shorewood change the date of Homecoming?" and "Should we take the chance of breaking tradition for one year?" were asked.

After considering the alternatives, school officials decided that Shorewood's varsity soccer team would enter the spotlight as a main event of Homecoming week. In addition, Shorewood's breaking of the Homecoming football tradition received Milwaukee media coverage, including articles in The Milwaukee Journal. Shorewood also influenced other schools around the city; an example would be Riverside, who also considered soccer as an alternative for their Homecoming game. If another Milwaukee area school were faced with a problem like ours, they, too, would consider soccer as a substitute for football. Approximately 1,100 people attended the game on Friday, September 30 at 7:30 p.m. as Shorewood beat the Riverside Tigers, 4-1.

Other than soccer's replacing football as the main event,

Homecoming week of 1983 began on Monday, September 26, with Beach and Sixties Day. Tuesday was Hat and Shades, Buttons and Bandanas Day. Wednesday was Outrageous/Circus Day and Friendship Day, where students sent cards with either a flower or candy to their friends. There was also the annual Homecoming Parade occurring that evening at 6:00 p.m. The floats were very original this year; in fact, this year was the first time that the faculty had it's own float, having the theme, "Life is a Circus, but School is a Zoo." Thursday was Toga Day and Class Competitions with lunch on the front lawn. The competitions

Homecoming Week A Success

consisted of water balloon throws, three-legged races, and the usual class tug-of-war, with the freshmen coming in first place. A specially-scheduled varsity football game against Ethan Allen, a class C team, was played that night; Shorewood won 34-6. The bonfire was held after the game at Atwater Beach, with music supplied by "Scarlet Fever," featuring Seniors John Spector, Jim Sadowski, Jay Pink, and Pat Dunn. Friday was Red and Gray/Team Day, featuring the Homecoming Assembly which included "Remember Whens," donning the dinks, and the Homecoming Skit. Afterwards a very spirited pep rally was held in the arena which featured the cheerleaders, pom pon squad, and more class competitions. At 4:00 a "Powder Puff" football game was held between the senior and junior girls, and the seniors won. At the end of the week the Junior Class had earned the highest number of spirit points and won the $75 prize.

The highlight of the week was, of course, the Homecoming Dance, considered by many students to be the best held in many years at Shorewood. "You've Got a Friend" was chosen for the theme. It was held on October 1, in the Arena from 8:00 to 11:00 p.m. "Exhibit A" provided the music.

The 1983 Homecoming Court included King Scott Jonas and Queen Katie Jones, Jim Heller and Chris Stuckslager, Tom Hammond and Sarah Allison, Daniel Baril and Brigid Maloney, Dave Qureshi and Laura Robison; Juniors Parker Rios and Amy Horton; Sophomores Nick Randazzo and Liz Copnall; Freshmen Blake Wilkerson and Jenny Phillips.

Families Feud In Verona

Drama Club brought a touch of Shakespeare to Shorewood this year with their fall production of "Romeo and Juliet." The play was set in the town of Verona where a feud was taking place between the families of Capulet and Montague, with two young lovers caught in the middle. Romeo and Juliet, played by Victor Gerhardstein and Danette Blitz, found they could never be together because of their opposing families; though with the help of Friar Lawrence, played by Matthew Yeo, a plan was made in order that the lovers would be able to spend the rest of their lives together.

Tragically the plan failed when Romeo mistook Juliet for dead and killed himself. Merely in a deep sleep, Juliet awoke, but upon seeing Romeo, she too killed herself. Their deaths left both families grief-stricken. In their grief the Capulets and Montagues decided to reconcile once and for all.

Other members of the cast were Capulet and Lady Capulet, played by Greg Magarian and Anne Gnatsios; Montague and Lady Montague, played by Tom Augustine and Lori Holton; Mercutio and Benvolio were played by Tim Malchow and Tom Hammond; Juliet's nurse was played by Helene Gresser; Tybalt was played by Tom Bottern; Paris was played by Mike Roddy.

"Romeo and Juliet" was the first dramatic Shakespearean play directed by Barbara Gensler at Shorewood. Much of the dialogue was cut or shortened to make the play shorter and more understandable. When asked, Mrs. Gensler stated the show as being very challenging and one of the hardest she has directed.

"Trial By Jury" Performed

Though the choir performed only twice at Shorewood this year, they were able to give concerts outside of school for The Men's Club and The Gas Company. The choir's first performance was held at Shorewood on November 20, which was "Trial by Jury," along with a selection of pieces ranging from classical to contemporary. On the fourteenth of December, the choir was given the opportunity to sing for The Men's Club. The concert was held at Pandl's in Bayside. The Gas Company also asked Shorewood's Chorus to perform for their employees on December 20.

A smaller group of singers within the choir, called Madrigals, also performs in the chorus concerts. Madrigals is made up of twelve students who were chosen through an audition. The group sang outside of school such as at a concert held at Mayfair Mall. Madrigals is different from choir, in that they practice completely on their own time, usually during lunch period or on weeknights. Dedication comes from the director as well, who holds rehearsals on Saturdays if needed.

Director Robert Quint is fairly new to Shorewood as he was brought here to substitute for Ms. Lenore, who had been the Shorewood Chorus' director for the past ten years. Although Lenore had originally planned on returning after one year, she then decided not to come back to Shorewood.

Mr. Quint had performed with the Skylight Theater and around the Milwaukee area before joining the Shorewood staff. The chorus' accompanist this year was Martha Galvin.

Generic Showcase One Of A Kind

This year Showcase, hosted by AFS, was a great success. The show was held on December 9 and 10. The theme, "Generic Showcase," conveyed that it was our own brand of entertainment. The production included many varieties of presentations such as comedy acts comprised of commercials and skits.

There were also singing solos by Vicki Nelson, Lori Holton, Erik Nelson, and Rhonda Richardson. Carlos Silva-

Craig sang a duet with Vicki Nelson. This year's thirteen-member Dance Chorus was choreographed by Coco Jones and Anje Roos. Other performers did modern dances and mimes.

Along with the singing, acting and dancing there were instrumental performances, varying from the pit band and other student bands to individual instrumental solos and duets. Tim Davis, Maria Kim and Dan Breitbach each rendered a piano solo.

Mrs. JoAnn Sternke was the coordinator of the show, and in charge as designer and technical director was Mr. Gary Pruett. Mrs. Sue Weckesser was costume advisor. Some of the proceeds went to benefit the AFS program.

Gerhardstein Plays Solo

The Shorewood High School Band held its annual Winter Concert on January 11 at 7:30 P.M. in the SHS Auditorium with Marlin Pendleton directing. The players performed four numbers for the audience after the Shorewood Intermediate School Band and SHS Jazz Ensemble had played the following: Moorside Suite by Gustav Holst, The White Rose Concert March by John Philip Sousa, The Looney Tunes Overture, and Concertino Op. 26 by Carl Maria von Weber, with Dennis Gerhardstein playing the clarinet solo.

In addition to the Winter Concert, the SHS Band marched in three of the four home football games, playing in the stands for the additional game. In order to prepare for the different marching maneuvers, band members were required to march on the football field under Mr. Pendleton's supervision and drum major Rebecca Snider's direction every morning for a week before the actual game. The most memorable games were the Homecoming Soccer Game and the Glory Cup Game versus Whitefish Bay, for which the mighty Whitefish Bay Marching Band was also invited to perform at halftime.

Other major SHS Band events included the trip to Washington D.C., in which the band members were able to talk to Supreme Court Justice and 1942 graduate of SHS, William Rehnquist. Also, the District Solo and Ensemble Contest was hosted by SHS, with many groups formed in different categories. Lastly, the Ice Cream Social, which has become a tradition at SHS for the end of the year, celebrated its tenth anniversary on Tuesday, June 12.

“Marigolds” Performed

“The Effects of Gamma Rays on Man in the Moon Marigolds” was the winter drama production this year. The play was different than most others since the cast was made up of all girls. Because there were only five characters involved, the play was double-cast. The first cast performed on Thursday, February 2 and Saturday, February 4. The second cast performed in the assembly on Wednesday, February 1, and on Friday, February 3.

During rehearsals, one cast practiced on stage while the other practiced in the Little Theater. The director was Barbara Gensler; Tami Kelber and Kris Kindwall were student directors.

"Marigolds" is a sad story of a mother's neglect and mental abuse of her two daughters. Beatrice, played by Danette Blitz and Leslie Kern, is the mother who has already caused her daughter Ruth's mental breakdown. As a result, Ruth frequently has convulsive fits. The part of Ruth was played by Jessie St. John and Jill Kinney. The other daughter's name is Tilly, who was played by Natalie Prentice and Shauna Keane. Tilly is tormented by her peers in school as well as by her mother; thus, she buries herself in her two favorite interests: science and her rabbit. The only person who seems to care about Tilly is her science teacher, who provides her with the little hope she has in the world. With this hope Tilly creates a project for the science fair at school, which she hopes to win. Tilly's creation is marigolds that she has planted and grown herself. In the end, Tilly does win the prize for her flowers though is horrified when she goes home to find that her rabbit has been killed by her mother, who would go to any length to share her misery with her daughters.

Other characters in the play were Nanny, played by Laura Malchow, and Janice Vickery, played by Jennifer Gehring.

Break Provided From Long Winter Days

As the dreary winter days drag on, school becomes a monotonous task. The joys of Winter Vacation are long forgotten and the future pleasure of Spring Break seem an eternity away. Students become restless and begin to count the days until summer. In the mist of this despair, their is hope — Winter Spirit Week.

Winter Spirit Week is a week containing many extra activities sponsored by Student Council. In addition, all these events are part of an overall competition. Each student who participates in an activity earns a point for his class. At the end of the week, the class with the most total points will win a prize of fifty dollars. The week's objective is to add a bit of excitement to school as to interrupt the seemingly endless stretch of school days. Each day a special event was planned, all leading up to the highlight of the week, the Turnabout Dance.

Monday was declared Parent's Day on which students bring their parents or any other interested adult to experience a day at Shorewood High School. Each parent not only had the opportunity of returning to high school for a day, but also in helping their son's or daughter's class earn spirit points. The standings for this first day were freshmen first, seniors second, sophomores third, and juniors last.

On Tuesday there were no competitions, but an informal concert was held in the front hall during lunch. This "musical lunch" featured the Clarinet Choir, Brass Ensemble, Jazz Ensemble, and the Choir. There was a good turn out for the lunch and those who went enjoyed it.

Class Competitions and the Bar-B-Que were scheduled for Wednesday at lunch. Friends huddled around the grills while roasting their hot dog lunches. Afterwards, students participated in the class competitions consisting of the egg toss, tug-of-war and, most-importantly, leap frog in honor of the day, February 29. Winning the class competitions were the sophomores, followed by the juniors, freshmen and finally, the seniors.

Seniors Show Most Spirit

Thursday was designated Theme Day on which each class dressed up to the theme they had chosen. Again points were earned for the number of students who participated. Seniors placed first with Dink and "Shades" Day as their theme, followed by juniors with Tie Day, sophomores with Summer Day and freshmen with Nerd Day.

On Friday, completing the competitions of the week were the class skits. Each class was to organize a five minute skit, somehow associated with the theme of winter.

The seniors captured first with their short adventure story of a trio of super heroes. Second were the sophomores with their skit about a Turnabout couple, ending with a scene of break dancing. With their take-off of a T.V. quiz show, the freshmen earned a third place standing. Finally, the juniors took fourth with their skit, a remake of the popular "Thriller" video. The overall results for the total week's competitions were seniors in first, sophomores second, juniors third and freshmen fourth.

Finally the highlight of the week had arrived, the Turnabout Dance. The theme of the dance was the song, "Girls Just Want to Have Fun," an appropriate title for this girl-ask-boy affair. For music there was the 50's pop band called "The Feds." They played good dancing music and were successful at getting the crowd to participate. The turn-out of people for the dance was quite good with over 100 couples buying tickets. All who went seemed to have an enjoyable time, and when the dance came to an end, people went out to carry on the fun.

The overall result of the week's activities was a success. The desired break in the routine of schoolwork was provided.

The 1983-84 school year was made very spirited by the SHS Student Council. The Council was able to continue the traditional activities and also add new ones to the agenda. Officers were Tom Hammond as president, Rebecca Snider as vice president, Scott Jonas as treasurer, Karen Timberlake as recording secretary and Karen Franchino as publicity secretary.

The first major activity sponsored by Student Council was Homecoming. They enthusiastically began the school year with Homecoming Spirit Week, held September 26-30, which included class competitions, the pep rally, the bonfire, and much more. The very successful Homecoming Dance was held on October 1.

For Thanksgiving, Student Council held a can drive in collaboration with Channel 12's Food for Families program. They also raised money by showing the movie "Tommy" on Friday, November 18 at 7:30 p.m.

This year the Council again sponsored two Blood Donor Days, one on December 2 and the other in conjunction with the Student Health Fair, held on March 28.

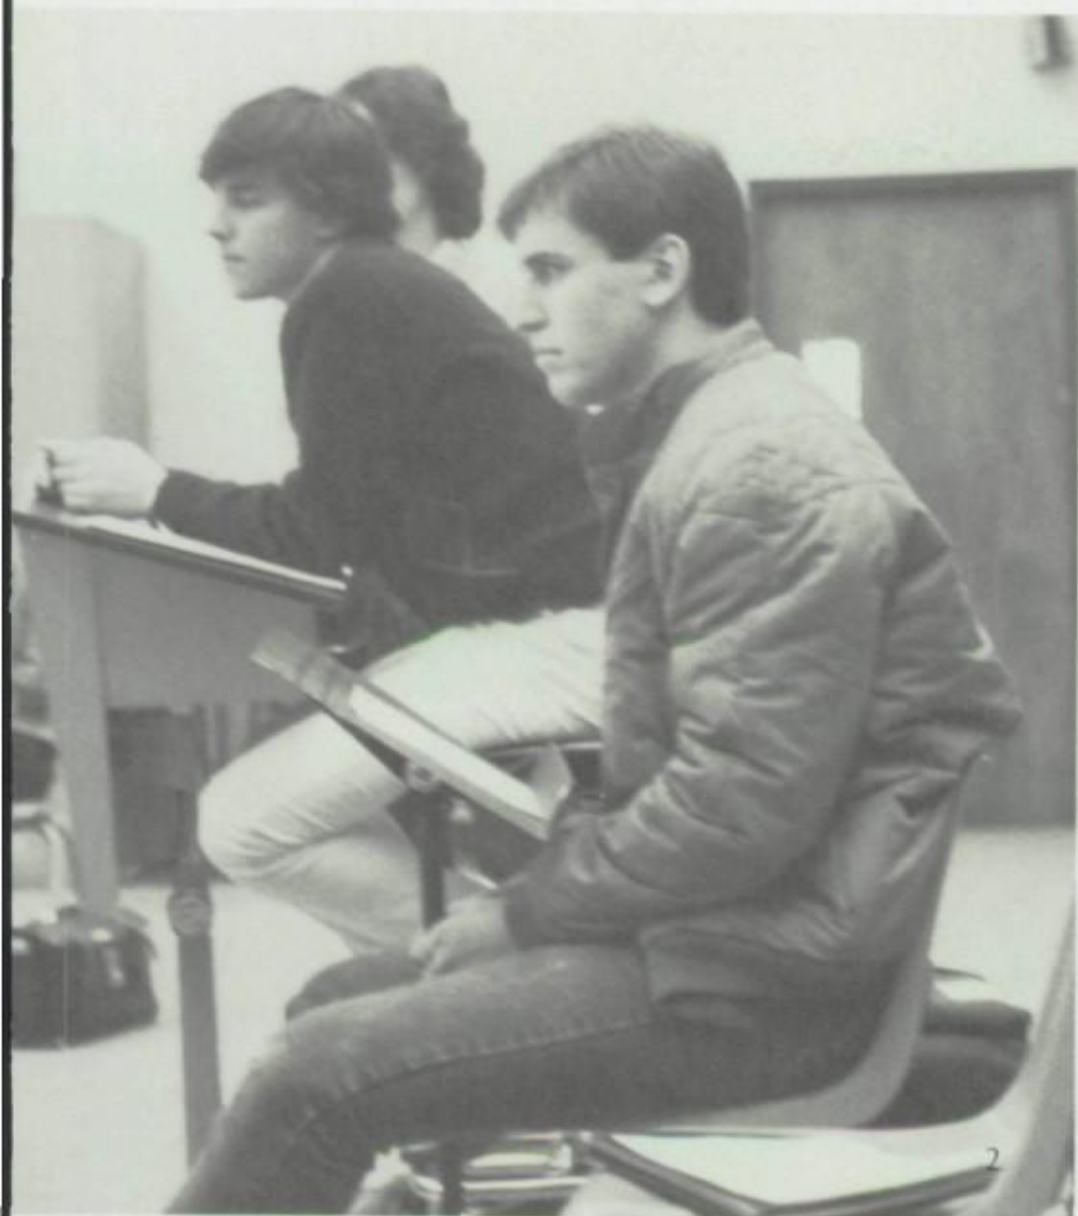

Trying to make a dull winter season more exciting, the Council sponsored Winter Spirit Week, from February 27-March 2, which included Parent's Day, the class skit assembly, and a hall decorating contest. The Turnabout Dance was held on March 3.

1) THE 1983-84 EXECUTIVE Board Members: Karen Timberlake, Scott Jonas, Karen Franchino, Rebecca Snider, Tom Hammond. 2) SCOTT JONAS and Tom Hammond take Student Council very seriously. 3) ALL OF this discussion is giving Brigid Molony a headache. 4) ADVISOR ELLEN Eckman makes sure no one gets out of hand at the meetings. 5) REBECCA SNIDER puts up another one of the ever-popular announcement banners in the front hall. 6) KEMI JONA is the only Council member that pays attention. 7) JACK HAENSEL is very enthused about the next event. 8) KAREN FRANCHINO'S ears pop from the extra altitude.

Council Adds Spirit To SHS

Staff Overcomes Problems

Getting an early start, Copperdome Editor Sandra Kampen and Advisor William McGinnis attended the WI Yearbook Workshop in LaCrosse over the summer. Lasting for four days, the workshop covered various layout forms and creative ideas. Reflected in the 1983-84 yearbook is the information acquired from that workshop.

A different layout and theme were the changes devised for this year. Returning to the standard approach, each sport, event, and school life activity was covered separately on two-page spreads. Between the major groupings were division pages, unlike in recent years. A line continuing throughout the book conveyed the visual theme, and the verbal theme was "not just another yearbook."

Returning from the previous year's staff were only three members. As a result, the making of the year book fell on a largely inexperienced staff. Although some problems arose during the year, they were handled and overcome.

1) READING ON the various aspects of Copperdome is staff member Renee Shavers. 2) HAVING A PICTURE party in the back room, three "Copperdomies" avoid their work. 3) EDITOR SANDRA Kampen tackles the task of correcting layouts. 4) IN A DAZE, Rosalie Cardinale ponders over her assignment. 5) MEMBER ANN Knetzger writes out her body copy. 6) ALSO WORKING diligently, Andy Digate modifies his layout. 7) THE 1983-84 COPPERDOME Staff: BACK ROW, Ann Knetzger, Andy Digate, Editor Sandra Kampen; MIDDLE BACK ROW, James Powell, Phyllis Thomas; MIDDLE FRONT ROW, Renee Shavers, Julie Larson, Renee Herzing, Christi Neumann; FRONT ROW, Chris Nass, Beth Dahl, Rosalie Cardinale.

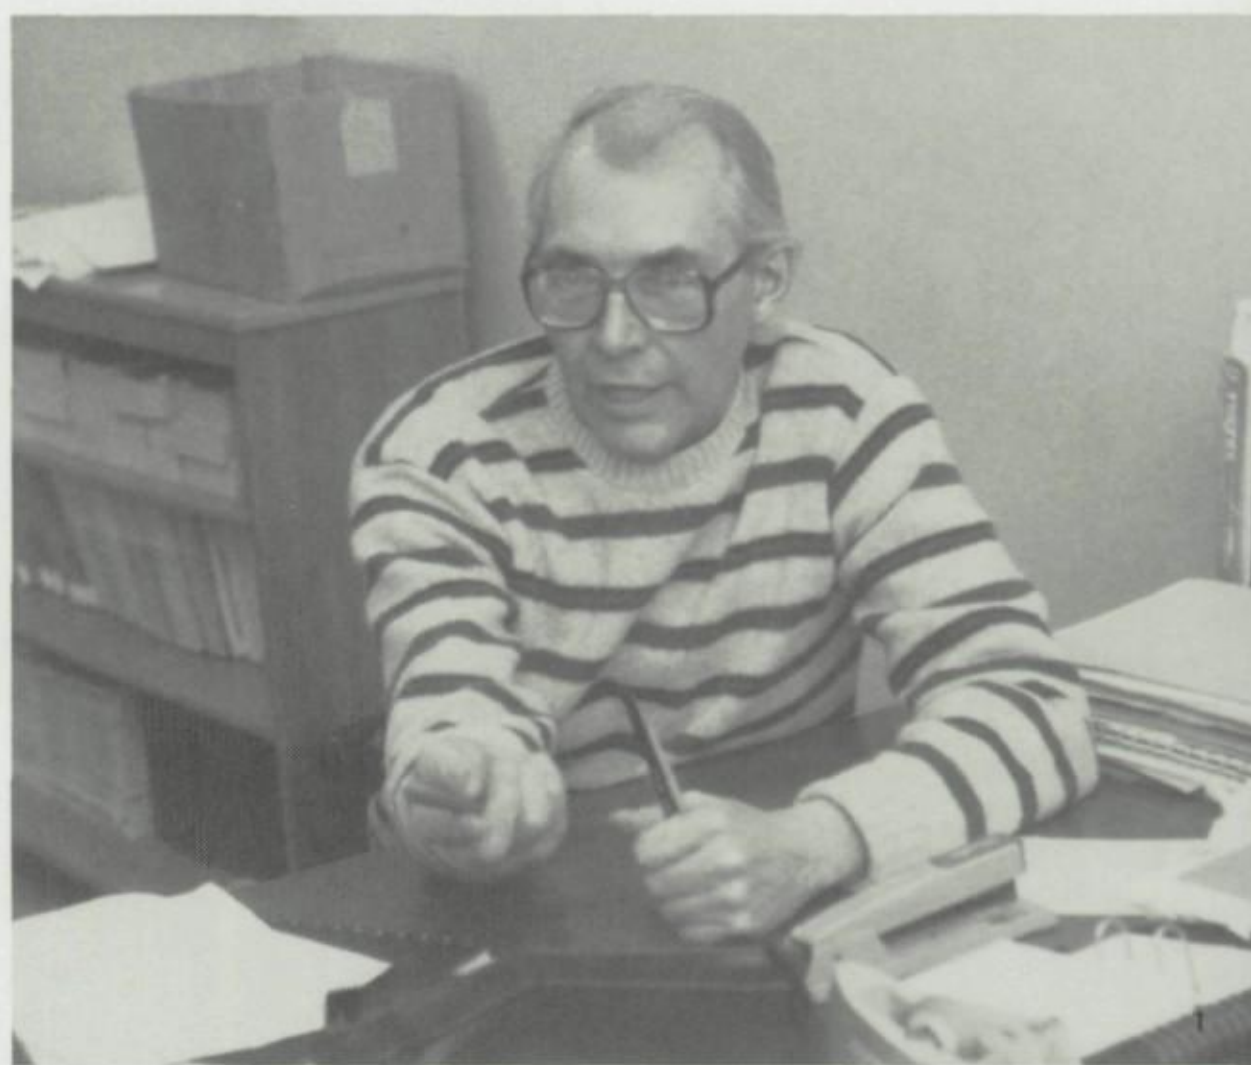

Under the leadership of Editor-in-Chief Katie Jones and advisor Michael Huth, the 1983-84 Ripples staff had an outstanding year. A few new ideas were tried, namely including art, cartoons, and so on, and devoting more space to feature and research articles.

Before we received our Ripples in homeroom every two weeks, a time-consuming process had taken place. First, the staff of 30 students brainstormed for ideas to use, and then each reporter was assigned an idea to develop into a workable story. The finished articles were then given to the editor for proofreading, and often many corrections were made. As one reporter put it, "No copy is perfect unless the reporter is an editor." The printer then received the stories and typed them in columns. Upon receiving the typed columns, the staff then did the page layout which according to Jones was difficult. The "pasted" newspaper was then sent back to the printer with the headlines written in for typesetting. After this three-week cycle was completed, Ripples was ready for distribution to each homeroom.

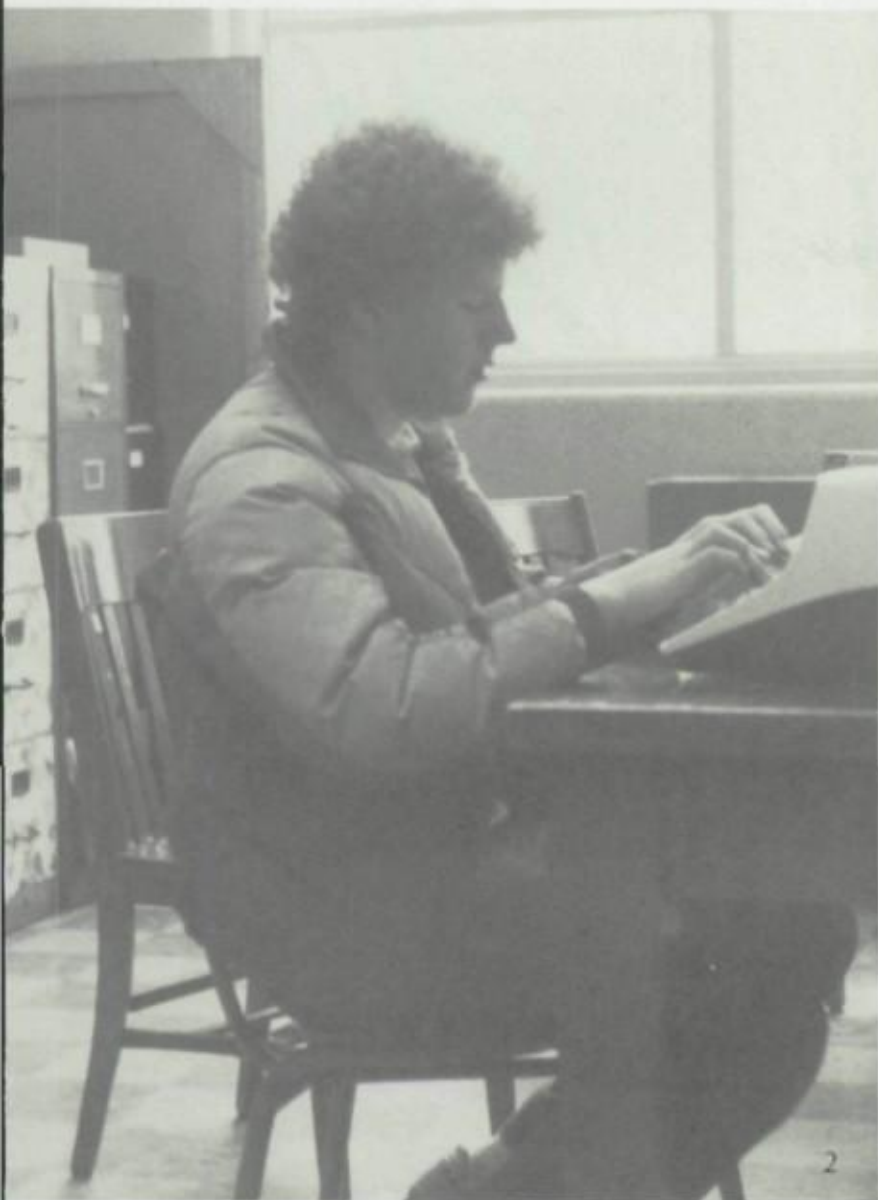

Both Huth and Jones felt the staff was a competent one, with many hard workers and excellent writers.

More Features In Ripples

1) MICHAEL HUTH, Ripples advisor, explains a procedure to a reporter. 2) NICK PETRIE types his article. 3) EDITOR-IN-CHIEF KATIE JONES points out Kim Paap's mistakes. 4) JANE PENNER is shocked by all of her typing errors. 5) VENETIA WARD is distracted from her writing while Greg Magarian continues working. 6) LOUISA KAMPS tries to explain why her copy is late. 7) HELENE GRESSER finds something humorous in Sarah Dahl and David Chang's story.

"Pegasus Week" Featured

The definition of pegasus is "poetic genius." Shorewood High School's only literary magazine, Pegasus, features poems, short stories, writings, and art work done by Shorewood High School students.

The advisor for Pegasus was Don Gietzen, and this year's co-editors were Leslie Kern and Anne Loomis, who worked with a staff of 10 students. The staff members met every Wednesday during the noon hour. At these meetings, the staff objectively read each piece that had been handed in. A student could have handed in as many pieces as he wanted, but each piece was chosen for the magazine on an individual basis. A contest was held for the best artwork and writings, and the winners received a monetary award. This year's winners were Chris Banzhaf for art and Greg Magarian in the writing category. The staff also assembled and organized the final copy.

To attract more pieces, Pegasus featured "Pegasus Week." For one week, English teachers took time out from their daily plans to let students work on pieces that could be submitted.

The magazine was issued in early spring.

The 1984 Forensic team, under the direction of Coach JoAnn Sternke, had an active year.

The season began in mid-January and ended with the State Forensics Tournament in mid-April. Meets were held on Saturdays and the purpose was to achieve the highest possible score as a team.

In order to prepare for the weekly tournaments, the students each met with Mrs. Sternke on a weekly basis. Sternke guided each student to help perfect the memorization and presentation of each piece.

As a reinforcement, the team participated in festivals, where the students could practice their pieces in an organized environment.

The team consisted of approximately 25 students this year. The students could choose from the following categories when selecting a piece: story telling, declamation, poetry, interpretive and persuasive.

Criminal Courts Debated

The Shorewood High School Debate Team, along with several Whitefish Bay debaters, began its season on October 7 with the resolution that: "The United States should adopt uniform rules governing the procedures of the criminal courts of the nation." This was an unusually large debate topic, but under the guidance of coaches Roxanne Hanney and Craig Bush, plus the help of Shorewood debaters Gina Petersen, Michael Roddy and Jenny Steinman, all three of which had attended the Marquette Debate Institute for two weeks, the season rapidly got under way.

Counted among the team's best efforts were the wins at Walker, the first tournament of the year and solely for novices; both Novice division and JV switchside wins at the Brookfield Central Winter Classic; and the semi-finalist win at the Pius tournament by Jane Penner, Jenny Steinman and two Whitefish Bay debaters in the Novice Division. Four individual trophies were won for the highest speaker point averages by Jenny Steinman, Greg Magarian, Jane Penner and Kathy Weida. The overall success of the team was reflected by the fact that nearly all debaters won at least one round during the year.

AFS Club brought four new students to Shorewood High School this year. The AFS exchange students who were attending Shorewood were Daniel Baril, from the French section of Montreal, Canada, Zuhuru Kithinji from Kenya, Ahmed Al-Hindi for Jordan, and Dalia Habib from Cairo, Egypt. The families hosting the students are the Paul family, the Hampton family, the Hill family, and the Sappenfield family, respectively.

Fund-raisers for the year included selling programs for the Holiday Folk Fair. The main fund-raiser for the year was the annual variety show, Showcase 1983, which brought in approximately $2500.

In March, Milwaukee sponsored an event called "Milwaukee Week." During that week, 12 students from AFS programs around the state came to Milwaukee for a week to see many of the sights that Milwaukee has to offer. It was a successful week.

The faculty advisor to AFS was Sonja Ivanovich. The presidency of AFS was split this year: Jason Lockwood was president during the first semester, and Brigid Maloney took over the job after Jason graduated in January.

AFS Hosts Four Students

Stage Gets Light Board

Under the direction of Barbara Gensler, Gary Pruett, JoAnn Sternke, Sue Weckesser and the following students: President Helene Gresser, Vice President Dan Gore, Secretary Natalie Prentice and Treasurer Sandy Saltzstein, the SHS Drama Club again had an exciting year. The Club presented four shows this year: "Romeo and Juliet," "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man in the Moon Marigolds," "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat," and a children's show. Working on the shows were the four crews that are available to Drama Club members: stage, costumes, publicity, and cast. The students worked hard to make each show a success.

There is, however, an added incentive to working hard and for many hours. When a Drama Club member has worked for enough extra hours to earn 10 points, he becomes a member of the International Thespian Society. Anne Loomis was the president of the SHS Thespian Troupe this year; Sandy Saltzstein was the treasurer; Melissa Nonken was the historian; Wendy Lauerman was recording secretary; Jackie Singer was secretary.

There was a new addition to Drama Club this year. A new light board which cost $71,500 was purchased in the summer of 1983.

1) WHAT A productive Drama Club crew! 2) AT LEAST Sandy Saltzstein knows where to look when a picture is being taken. 3) ERIC EVERTT concentrates on cutting a piece of wood. 4) WENDY WOLF tests the thickness of some paint. 5) THE SHS THESPIANS: BACK ROW, Dan Bauer, John Murphy, Alex Hestoft, Victor Gerhardstein; THIRD ROW, Chris Shank, Kasia Baldikoski, Alec Fraser, Joe Pearson, Tom Augustine, Ben Woodford; SECOND ROW, Tim Malchow, Jessica Vogal, Wendy Wolf, Natalie Prentice; FRONT ROW, Melissa Nonken, Sandy Saltzstein, Anne Loomis, Jackie Singer, Wendy Lauerman. 6) KASIA BALDIKOSKI finds something amusing in the light. 7) ALEX HESTOFT and Joe Pearson look over the Showcase set. 8) DAN BAUER is preparing to lasso another member of the stage crew. 9) TOM AUGUSTINE: A Born Ruler.

The 1984 varsity cheerleaders, under the direction of their new advisor, Mrs. Conley, and captain Debbie Sherman, enjoyed a successful season of rebuilding. Pulling the squad back together was one of the team's main goals this season. The squad also tried increasing school spirit and fan participation by using newer and easier cheers that everyone could take part in. The cheerleaders attended all home and away varsity basketball and football games and felt that through better organization, they became a better squad. The squad felt that they have fulfilled most of their goals, but would like to work harder to achieve more school participation and increase school spirit next year.

The JV cheerleaders also had a successful season. The squad held tryouts at the end of October, in which six people made the squad, two of which were freshmen. The JV cheerleaders attended all home and away JV boys' basketball games and also helped increase school spirit and fan participation.

Squad Performs In D.C.

The pom pon squad worked hard this year to earn money for their semi-annual trip with the band and flag corps. This past spring the band went to Washington, D.C. The sixteen member squad, along with their coordinator Vida Lagenkamp, worked together to raise the money necessary for taking such a trip.

This year, the SHS Model United Nations had a very active year. Not only did they participate in the UW-Milwaukee United Nations, representing Turkey, Brazil, Argentina, and Zimbabwe, but six students, separate from the main group, went to the New York United Nations in February. The six students represented Kuwait. Both groups were advised by Sonja Ivanovich.

The Academic Decathlon is run by the Department of Public Instruction to recognize students who are talented academically. This was the first year that Shorewood had taken part in it.

At the beginning of December, fifteen students took six written tests, and the nine students with the highest scores made the team, three of whom were alternates in case of illness.

There were three divisions within the team: Honors (with a grade point average of 3.75 and above): Peter Schmidt, Kemi Jona, and alternate Anne Loomis; Scholars (with a grade point average of 3.0-3.74): David Chang, Sarah Dahl, and alternate Steve Clossot; Varsity (with a grade point average of below 3.0): Alex Hesloft, Dave Sampson, and alternate Helene Gresser.

Since it was the first year SHS had participated, we were at a disadvantage. The students, however, did well in the state preliminaries and the team was one of five competing in the Wisconsin State Decathlon on February 4, at Rufus King.

In order to prepare for the State Competition, the students met several times each week to practice giving speeches, to be briefed by various faculty members on subjects that were covered on the tests, and so on.

The meet held on February 4 included taking six written tests, covering economics, social studies, English, math, science, and fine arts, writing an impromptu essay, giving a four-minute prepared speech and a two-minute impromptu speech, having a personal interview, and participating in an oral "Super Quiz." The quiz this year was on the Olympics.

Although Shorewood did not take first place and go on to represent Wisconsin at the International Academic Decathlon held in April in Los Angeles, the team did take second place - only 406 points behind Rufus King. Shorewood did, however, receive the highest number of individual medals, 33, which were awarded to the students on the night of the final competition at the War Memorial.

Variety Of Clubs Offered

Shorewood High offers a variety of clubs to a student body which has a wide scope of interests.

The Math Team, sponsored by Roger Woods, is comprised of students who liked to be quizzed in math. They met in many interscholastic matches during the winter months. The final meet was at the All-Suburban meet in spring.

The Chess Team also competed in interscholastic meets during the winter months. The team, sponsored by Tom Pierce, played six boards at each meet. They also competed in the state tournament in April. The team required a tremendous amount of skill.

The Art Club, sponsored by Eileen Gardner and led by President Tom Augustine, was comprised of a group of interested students who wished to be involved in a spectrum of art activities such as art projects and raising money for the Art Scholarship.

The Audio-Visual Club made sure that the projectors, phonographs and other equipment were kept in good working condition. The club also maintained an updated inventory of the equipment with the aid of computer programs that had been developed by the club's president, James Powell.

1) THE ART CLUB: Chris Banzhaf, Thomi Durgin, Advisor Eileen Gardner, President Tom Augustine, John McMillian, Eric Everett, and Vadim Nelson. 2) ERIC EVERETT, John McMillian, Tom Augustine and Chris Banzhaf pose for the camera. 3) MIKE PARKER concentrates on a chess board in a recent practice. 4) JEFF SAYLOR jots down a move his opponent made. 5) CLIFFORD MARGIS pondered a move made by Peter Schmidt. 6) EUGENE KOTLYARSKI wonders which rook to move next.

School District Sets Goals

The School District set six goals for the 1983-1984 school year. The first goal was the improvement of the curriculum program. The second goal was the development of a district-wide model for computer literacy. Next was an evaluation of the teacher supervision and improvement model, and the fourth goal was an examination of the K-12 organizational pattern in response to declining enrollments. The final two goals of the administration were the continuation of the public relations committee and the investigation of the statewide public competency testing program.

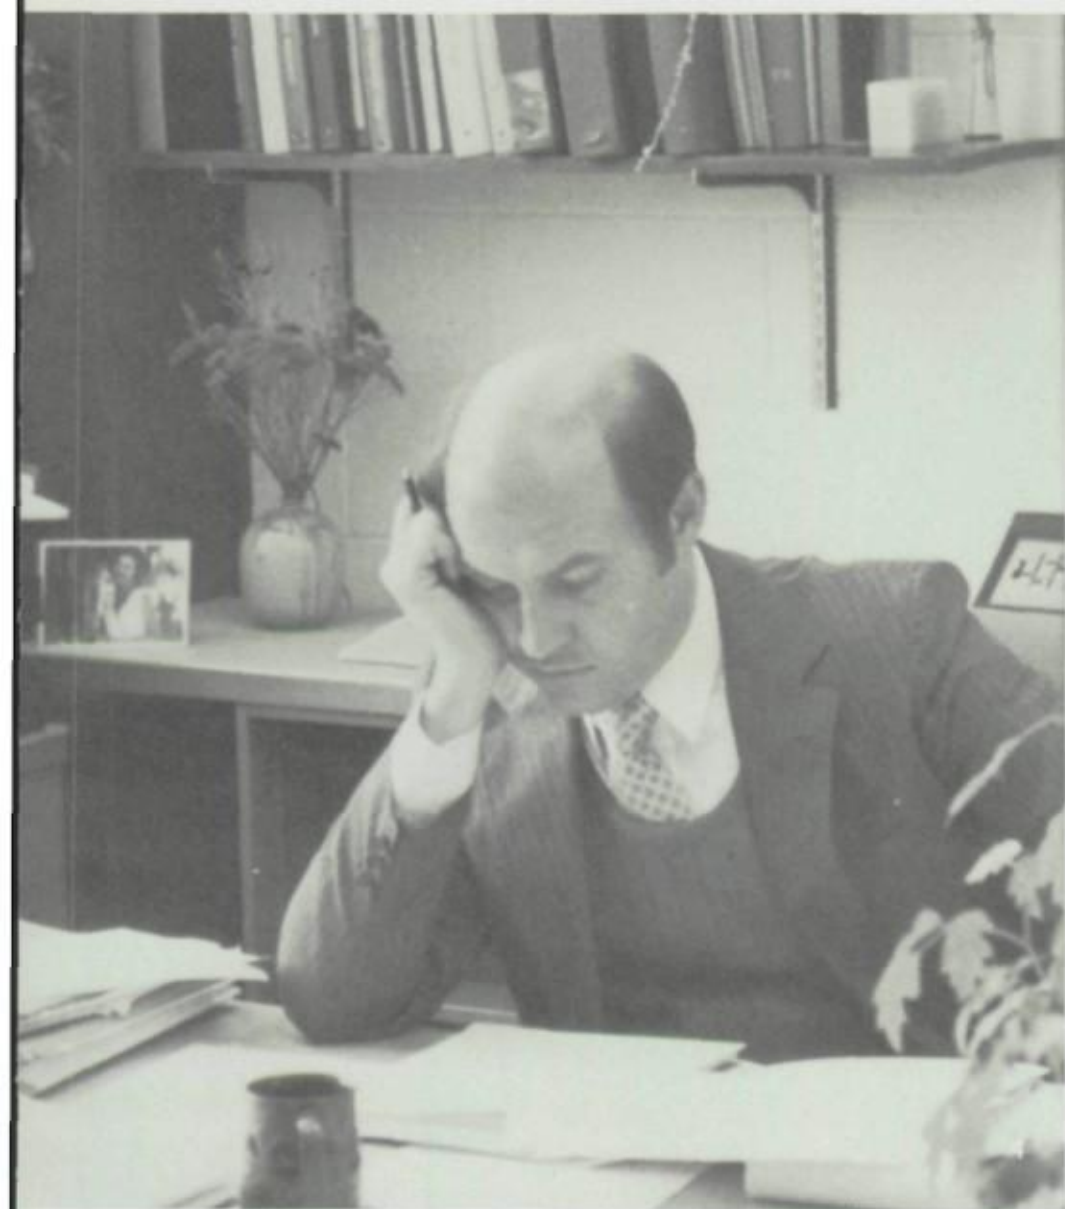

Dr. Grohe, the superintendent of the school district, said that the main problem with meeting these goals is over the summer, the time needed to fulfill these goals was taken up selecting the new high school principal. She was thankful, however, that the high school's vice-principal, Mr. Geske, agreed to stay on for one more year to give the administration time to select a new vice-principal.

One more program set up by the district administration is the audit of Shorewood's science program by teachers from other district schools. The evaluation, a two-to three-year process, is being conducted by the School Evaluation Consortium with a new department beginning its evaluation every year. Dr. Grohe feels confident that the majority of the goals set for this year will be met.

1) DOROTHY STOECK is content in her job. 2) DR. GROHE TAKES TIME out to pose for a picture. 3) WAITING TO TALK to a secretary, Sylvana Aria looks at some flyers. 4) THE PHOTOGRAPHER catches Bruce Vosseller hard at work. 5) ANN KNETZGER looks for something to keep busy with in the Recreation Department. 6) MILDRED EUSTIS FILLS out a work permit. 7) BUSY AT WORK, Rose Mary Vello isn't aware of the photographer.

Harlan Arrives, Geske Retires

This year, Shorewood was faced with two major changes in its administration. While the school was welcoming a new principal, Dr. F. James Harlan, it was also saddened by the upcoming loss of its assistant principal, Mr. Richard Geske.

Formerly a principal in Two Rivers, Wisconsin, Dr. Harlan officially became Shorewood High School's principal on October 1. To learn as much as possible about our school and to promote a communitive effort to taking better care of the school were two of his goals for the 1983-84 school year. Striving for the latter of these goals, Dr. Harlan enacted several minor changes at the beginning of the second semester; they affected the daily P.A. announcements, reading break, and hall passage. In addition, he intended to carefully evaluate the effectiveness of each change and consider future adjustments.

After serving Shorewood High School for 23 years, Assistant Principal Richard Geske retired at the end of the 1983-84 school year. Mr. Geske was known for his fair discipline and openness with students. Formerly a biology teacher and football coach for Shorewood, Mr. Geske has always enjoyed working with the "kids." His open-door policy allowed anyone to go in and talk with him at any time about anything. A true friend of all the students and staff at Shorewood, Mr. Geske will surely be missed for many years to come.

1) THE MORNING RUSH hour comes in for tardy slips. 2) WHILE GIVING an evil eye, Mrs. Nicholas tackles the daily chore of filing. 3) DEDICATED HAT collector, Mr. Geske displays one of his favorite pieces. 4) IN THE OFFICE again, Charlie Drake thinks up a new excuse for being late. 5) A FRESHMAN EXPERIENCES her first encounter with the famed Mr. Geske. 6) THIS YEAR Shorewood High School welcomed its new principal, Dr. Harlan. 7) APPALLED BY the general irresponsibility of students, Mrs. Evans gives a disgusted look.

The Special Services Department offers assistance to students through many varying programs that have been tailored to fit the students' needs. The Chapter I program is run by Barbara Tays and is designed to get students who are having trouble with their academics back on the right track. Students with special learning disabilities are instructed and assisted by Betty Rottman and Nancy Gorens. The students that enter the program must have average or above-average intelligence. There are two curriculums; one assists students in mainstream classes, the other prepares students to enter regular classes. Another department is for the hearing impaired and is run by Gloria Matter and aided by Barbara Nowak. It is an oral program and serves not only Shorewood students, but also the North Shore area. The library also offers special services and is directed by Dr. Patricia Gorton, who is aided by Shirley Fairweather.

Another department at Shorewood is the Guidance and Counseling Department that offers assistance to students in many different areas. Counselors Kathy Bourne, Elmer Jacobson and Sandra Hassemer strive for an individualized system in which students can receive more personalized help.

Services Offer Help

1) MRS. BOURNE does her business with a smile. 2) MRS. HASSEMER helps with a problem. 3) MISS TAYS makes homework seem much easier. 4) IS DR. GORTON doing her nails? 5) MICHELLE HUML works on her sewing project. 6) FRESHMAN KIM LARSON likes to read. 7) KRISTIN NORTROM receives help from Miss Wagner. 8) ELMER JACOBSON gets the grocery list from his wife.

Applied Arts Expands

Technology has made its presence known not only all over the world but also to our SHS curriculum. As a part of the Applied Arts program, Industrial Arts developed new courses to keep up with the demands of technological development. Barbara Tays and Larry Nelson worked together to put two new classes into the curriculum. They are called Technology I and II and are geared to show students how to prepare for their futures. Industrial Arts also offered four drawing classes, Industry I and II, and Repair and Maintenance. As part of these classes, students went to Plymouth, WI to observe drawing and manufacturing of residential homes and to MATC to observe computer systems.

Another Applied Arts program is Home Economics with classes taught by Mary Kay Anderson and Gracia Willis. Within the department, the Human Relations class doubled its enrollment over the previous year; the Foods classes hosted their annual Faculty Tea and National Honor Society banquet. Field trips included trips to John Byron's restaurant where students were given a tour of the facilities. Another Foods class visited Banihana of Tokyo which specializes in cooking Japanese food right in front of you.

Business Education courses were taught by Karl Korneisel. Typing drew the largest number of students. Other classes within the department included Accounting, Business Law, Office Training, and Shorthand. The last two are offered through Whitefish Bay High School.

1.) CONNIE HARRISON and Sheila Bush can't wait for lunch time. 2.) NAOMI GLICK displays comendable effort in her Drawing class. 3.) CLINTON WRAY and Fran Guyton show that cooking can be fun when you work together. 4.) DAVID McKENZIE tries to be different by looking at the typewriter keys. 5.) HERE'S JOHN Jackson acting like the cool stud of Repair and Maintenance class. 6.) PAUL ZION shows you can have a smooth shave in one of the Industrial Arts classes. 7.) MR. NELSON shows Joel Blank how to cut a few corners. 8.) TREVOR McGIVERAN shows Mandy Mulligan that cooking is an art.

The 1983-84 school year saw few changes in the English Department. However, Shorewood High School made the step of acquiring a computer for use in the library. The computer is available for use by students during study halls and also before and after school. It is especially helpful with papers and reports for it makes both minor corrections and major revisions easily.

Also, Pat Hammond replaced Judith Allen, who worked at SHS for three years, as grammar lab coordinator. Mrs. Hammond, whose jobs include arranging volunteers and tutors for those students who need additional help in English, works at SHS on Mondays and Thursdays.

Another special English program at SHS is Classics Seminar, which is a discussion group for sophomores and freshmen recommended by their English teachers. Led by Natalie Kloehn, the students discuss various classics in a group, in place of the regular English classes they would be having that hour.

Computer Aids Writers

1) SARAH HABERSTROH uses her time effectively. 2) MR. PIASKOSKI loves to read aloud. 3) THE AMERICAN LITERATURE class doesn't quite understand. 4) LAURIE PONIEWAZ tries to be a model student. 5) MR. GIETZEN drives his point home. 6) MR. HUTH quotes some lines from a poem. 7) MR. GIETZEN wants his Intermediate Composition class to get the "feel" of the paragraph. 8) MATT MOESSON listens attentively to the speaker. 9) CRAIG NICHOLS shows some of his inner-self in a paper bag speech.

Band Travels To Washington

This year the Shorewood High School Orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Ann Wolfram, began its goal of encouraging more students to become involved in orchestra. Through combined concerts with the SIS Orchestra, Mrs. Wolfram hopes to rebuild the program and increase participation.

Many students in the art classes can participate both in regular and independent study. In each class, the students are offered a wide range of activities from sketching to pottery, and learn about art history in class and through field trips.

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Quint, the SHS Chorus continued its excellence. Led by President Danyel Wofford, Vice-President Peter Schmidt, Secretary Helene Gresser, and Treasurer Sarah Dahl, the chorus was involved in many fundraisers for their trip to Minneapolis.

Director Marlin Pendleton and this year's student director Rebecca Snider finished another successful year with the Shorewood High School Band. The band not only performed during football and basketball seasons and in two concerts, but also prepared for their trip to Washington, D.C.

1.) CHOIR MEMBERS happily harmonize. 2.) KATHY NEUMANN works diligently on her music. 3.) SPENCER CABLE and Erik Nelson add quality to the choir's sound. 4.) DAVID NEVEL practices a difficult piece of music. 5.) THE SHOREWOOD HIGH School Band performs "SIROCCO" for their halftime performance. 6.) READING MUSIC requires concentration by choir members. 7.) VICTOR GERHARDSTEIN finds that playing the tuba requires strength. 8.) MIKE MOLONY works on his art project.

Shorewood High School offers students a choice of four foreign languages. The modern languages offered for four years are German, French, and Spanish. Latin is offered for two years.

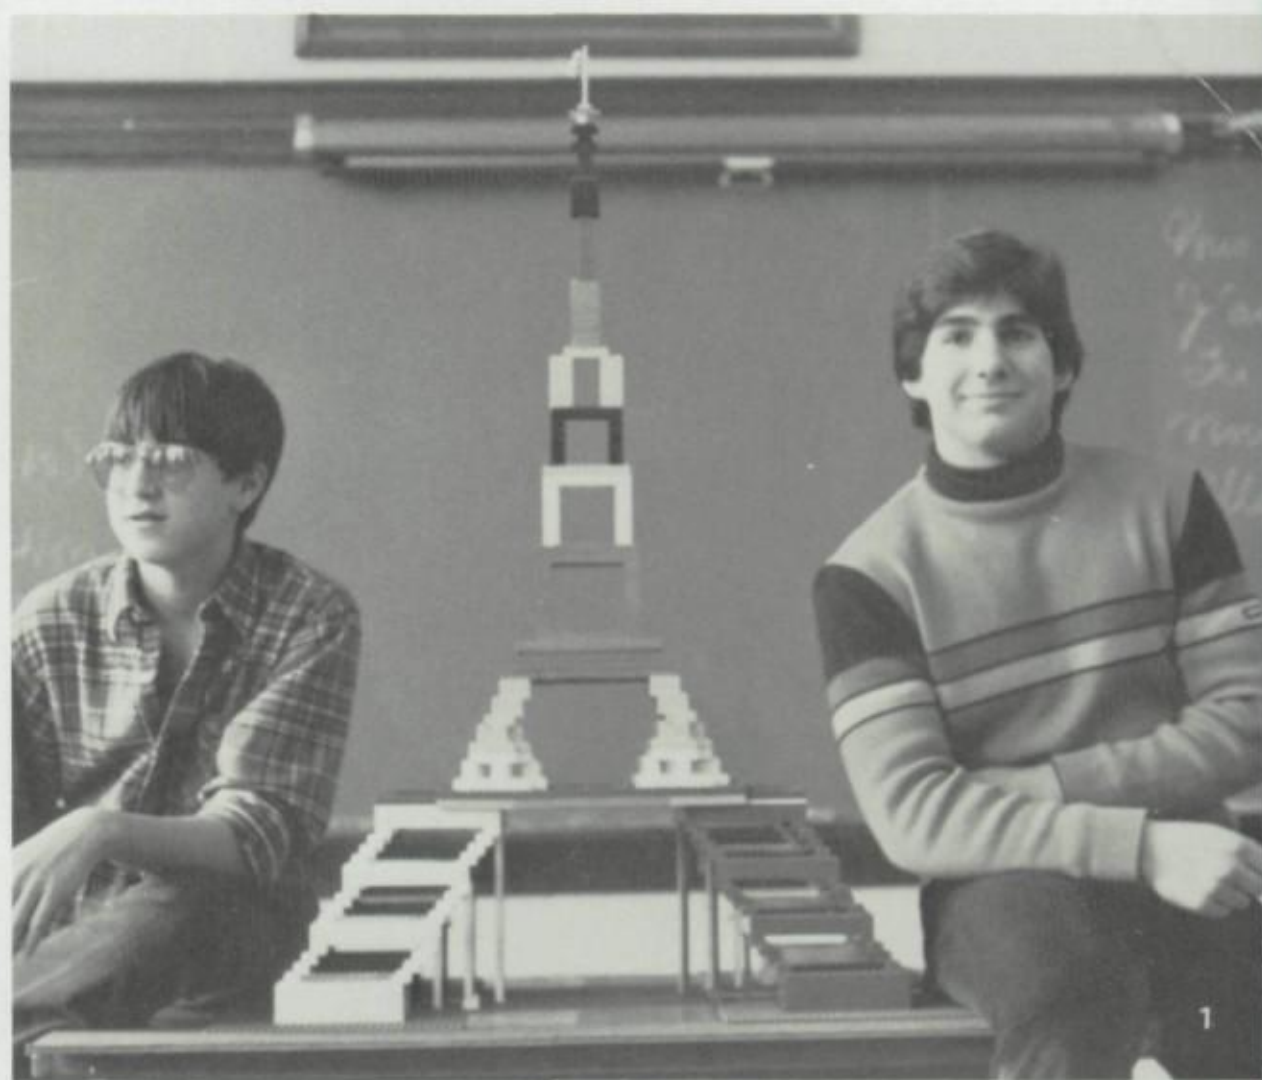

Three or four years ago, Hebrew was added to the language program. This year two Shorewood students, Kemi and Miriam Jona, participated in the class at Whitefish Bay High School during first hour.

Carol Sutton, head of the foreign language department, returned this year from a year's leave of absence. She spent her time in Mexico tutoring French to Mexican students, and she also took classes.

The main goal of the foreign language teachers is to teach students to speak and read the language. To help reach this goal they use various methods of complementing the lessons. Movies, filmstrips, songs, skits, dialogues and magazines all aid the teachers to help a student improve his listening and comprehension skills.

Awards and scholarships, for all four languages taught at Shorewood, are given to students who meet the requirements and plan to go to college. The awards are funded by the Cudahy Foundation.

Sutton Returns To SHS

1) AARON GOLDMAN and Dan Blackman sit beside their creation of the Eiffel Tower. 2) A GERMAN BOOK makes interesting reading material for Kris Paap. 3) THE FRENCH III, hour 4 class poses with distinction. 4) BEFORE RETURNING the tests, Mr. Klaffenboeck shows his disappointment in the grades. 5) DURING THE PARIS unit in French III, Sarah Rich gives her speech on les Invalides. 6) PLEASED WITH her students' grades, Miss Sutton commends her class. 7) SPANISH IV students have an interesting discussion. 8) NEEDING HELP with a problem, Shauna Keane is rescued by French teacher Miss Sutton. 9) SEVERAL STUDENTS show their varied interests in French III.

Computer Interest Increases

This year in the math department there were no major changes within the course selections, except for the computer class. Computers Two was added as a sequel to Computers One because demand of students' wanting to be in a computers class had greatly increased. For example, three years ago one class was offered, and this year five class hours were offered. Mr. Pierce discontinued teaching Geometry and Concepts of Algebra to fulfill the students' needs to be in a computer course. There were no other computers added to the room but one was placed in the library, which was used by the students. Another computer was put in Barbara Frafjord's room, which was used by the teachers.

Calculus was offered again at SHS this year. Since it is taken through the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, each student receives college credits for it. Although only two semesters of math are required to graduate, statistics show that 95% of the students at SHS take four years of math.

1) MR. PIERCE'S class listens attentively. 2) MR. WOODS and David Chang try to solve a difficult algebra problem. 3) JENNY OECHLER works on her computer program. 4) MR. NESS' class watches carefully as he works a problem out on the chalk board. 5) A COMPUTER CLASS works contently on the computers. 6) CHRIS BANZHAF and Shannon Reese work on the computer with some enthusiasm. 7) DAVID SYLVESTER plays it cool working on the computer. 8) MR. WOODS helps out Sheila Bush and Connie Harrison. 9) TAKING TIME out to look over tomorrow's schedule is Mr. Woods.

The Physical Education Department, led by Larry Schoeber, added three new classes to its program this year. Outdoor Education, handball and rugby were offered for the first time.

As in past years, freshmen must have a health and swimming class. Sophomores and juniors have an elective program where they are allowed to select classes of their choice.

All students are given the opportunity to develop certain skills such as capabilities for team activities, volleyball skills, techniques for basketball, swimming and survival abilities, and also special skills needed for individual and dual sports. Students also can amplify certain values and learn the importance of physical activity in their lives.

The Physical Education department made some recent purchases. For racquetball, special plastic rimmed glasses were bought for the protection of the players' eyes. A stereo "box" was invested in for use during aerobics class.

The major expenditure this year was the reflooring of the North Gym. The repair took the greater part of the summer to complete and the school spent about $40,000 on the floor alone. Also, both the boys' and girls' locker rooms were repainted.

North Gym Gets New Floor

1) INSTRUCTING SOME freshmen on how to stretch is expert Mrs. Strother. 2) LINING UP for soccer drills are Kathy Roller, Carolyn Andersen and Clinton Wray. 3) RELAXING ON the soft, smooth grass of the SHS football field are Sally Gether and Kim Catalano. 4) YOU SHOULDN'T forget to stretch before any physical activity! 5) WAITING PATIENTLY for the soccer ball to be passed are Joy Patterson and Ramona Paulson. 6) CAROL GERWIN shows some fancy footwork. 7) GATHERING FOR a wrap session before daily gym class are some freshmen girls. 8) THE BIONIC WOMEN race across the softball diamond. 9.) KATHY ROLLER takes great effort driving the ball closer to the goal.

Science Offers Variety

The Science Department offers a variety of courses in biology, physics, earth sciences and chemistry. The department is staffed with four teachers having a total of nine degrees: four bachelors, four masters and one Ph.D.

Biology, the study of living things, is the only required science course. Required for graduation, biology can be taken by students when they are either freshmen or sophomores. Advanced Placement Biology, a very challenging course, is offered to those students who wish to go to college to prepare for a career in a medical profession.

Physics is the study of the how and why things happen the way they do. The science deals with the laws and theories of such great scientists as Sir Isaac Newton and Albert Einstein.

Earth Science is the study of the earth. The class also spends time studying the various aspects of astronomy. The course is taken by students who wish to go into fields of study such as astronomy, archaeology and earth biology.

Chemistry, the study of chemicals and their reactions, can be studied through two approaches at Shorewood, Regular Chemistry and Chem. Study.

1) GERALD BIRKHOLZ prepares to cut agar as Laura Martinez looks on, and Natalie Case waits for her share. 2) SHERYL SCOTT, Sue Taddey and Lisa Resek group together for a shot. 3) JEFF SCOTT reads the instructions for an experiment. 4) AS AMY BERRY reads the instructions, Victor Gerhardstein stirs the mixture. 5) TOM ENSLOW swirls his own chemistry mixture. 6) "LOOK AT that!" exclaims Anne Ganatsios as Laura Peltier jokes along. 7) CHECKING HIS measurements, Joe Cardinale prepares to pour the solution into a beaker. 8) LOOKING OVER his molecular model, Eliot Minor asks a question of Chem. Study teacher, David Biddick. 9) THE APPARATUS stands ready to be used by Chem. Study students. 10) USING THE BOOK as a guide, Allan Williams jots down a few notes.

Social Studies Offers Diversity

With a relatively small teaching staff, the Social Studies Department prides itself on diversity for its students. Students at Shorewood are required to graduate with five credits of social studies. American Society, a year course which accounts for two of the five credits, teaches students the history of American government and the development of the political decisions in our society. Students must also take a one semester course of economics from the required five credits. A student may choose from Economic Theory or Consumer Economics, where students are taught everyday economic decisions, from proper filling procedures for income taxes to comparative shopping. Another one credit, one semester course required for graduation is a political science course. A student may choose from Political Theory, where the inner-workings and theories of the operation of government are taught, or Current Political Issues. Students are also required to take one elective in social studies aside from the required five listed above. They may choose from a wide variety of courses, ranging from Anthropology to European Studies.

1) TIM MALCHOW listens to a lecture about communism in Political Theory. 2) ANGELA VICK is thoroughly engrossed in what Mrs. Sheperd is lecturing about. 3) DAVID KUCHARSKI cheerfully takes a European Studies test. 4) MITCHELL OST explains the history of the Civil War. 5) DONNA SHEPERD points out our European allies. 6) SONJA IVANOVICH talks about the Political Spectrum. 7) CHRIS SHANK and Debbie Sherman try not to daze off during a Political Theory lecture.

Dear John -

I want to leave you with the following poem, which I read on a card
I got for graduation.
I thought the message was nice, & it says
in an articulate way all that I hope you left in your life:

I wish you the courage to be warm
when the world would prefer that you be cool.
I wish you success sufficient to your needs;
I wish you failure to temper that success.
I wish you joy in all your days;
I wish you sadness so that you may better measure joy.
I wish you gladness to overbalance grief.
I wish you humor & a twinkle in your eyes.
I wish you glory & the strength to bear its burdens.
I wish you a shining on your path and storms to season your journey.
I wish you peace - in the world in which you live and in the smallest corner of the heart where truth is kept.
I wish you faith - to help define your living,
and your life.
More I cannot wish you, except perhaps love - to make all the rest worthwhile!

Take care - !!
Love always,

Janet Sahl '84

Tomorrow is a dream that leads me onward.
It's a chance I've yet to take,
It's a friend I've yet to make.

Tomorrow is a dream that leads me onward.
Always just a step ahead of me,
It's the joy I've yet to know,
The lows I've yet to show,
For it's the person I have yet to be.

Staff Sees Many Changes

This year Shorewood students saw many changes in the school's administration. Shorewood received Dr. F. James Harlan, who had been the principal for the past three years in Two Rivers, Wisconsin. Dr. Harlan came to SHS with a long list of educational credentials: a bachelor's degree in social studies, a master's degree in counseling and guidance, and a doctorate in educational administration. After commuting daily between Two Rivers and Shorewood throughout the month of September, Dr. Harlan officially became Shorewood High School's principal on October 1.

At the end of the 1983-84 school year, Assistant Principal Richard Geske retired after serving Shorewood High School for 23 years. Mr. Geske first came to SHS as a biology teacher in the fall of 1961. From 1962-1970, Mr. Geske also coached varsity football at Shorewood, and in 1971 he became Assistant Principal.

There were also additions to this year's teaching staff. A familiar face to some students from previous years, Intermediate School crafts teacher James Maki taught first hour art at SHS while continuing to teach at the SIS. The other additions included Camille Faherty, who taught second hour Spanish here, Sheryl Kelber, who taught second and third hour math classes, and Ann Wolfram, who directed the orchestra during first hour.

Frosh Have Mixed Feelings

The '83-'84 school year started out with a bang for the Freshman Class on the morning of August 28, 1983. The first hours at SHS were by many accounts "scary," "very busy," "exciting," "confusing," and "terrifying," while others expressed general feelings of nervousness, paranoia, disorientation, and simply being lost. The typical freshmen were confused by the different buildings and were frequently misdirected to the third floor of the science building by upperclassmen.

Besides their feelings about the first day of school, the freshmen have formed opinions about themselves. The majority of the freshmen see themselves as a class with "a lot of participation," "spirit," "energy," and "a lot of nice people," yet there are those that disagree. Some frosh commented on how the class seems not to have any spirit, is "dull," "queer," has a high level of immaturity, and is too uptight about personal image.

Despite all this, the freshman class, led by President Lori Holton and Vice-President Tim Westlake, enjoyed its first year at Shorewood High School. Many frosh have reached beyond class lines to participate in the school as a whole, and thus have discovered new people, new friends, activities, and organizations. The freshmen have finally overcome their various obstacles to establish themselves as the class of '87!

Sophomores Gain Freedom

As many sophomores discovered, their second year of high school was one of increased responsibility and status. They had a broader choice of classes, most of which were more demanding and required a greater amount of time. Since they were no longer "stupid, little freshmen," they became more involved in school activities and demonstrated their school spirit much more freely.

Homecoming was the first opportunity they had to show that great school spirit. They did so by constructing a magnificent "cereal box" float which was awarded an honorable third place. Because of their outstanding participation in the various events of Homecoming week, the sophomores earned second place in points for overall spirit. To top it off, more people attended the Homecoming Dance that Saturday from the sophomore class than any other.

Sophomores experienced many other new freedoms as well. Many of them obtained their drivers' licenses, releasing them from being dependent on their parents or friends for transportation. Also, the Halloween Dance, which in previous years was limited to upper classmen only, was opened to the whole school. This allowed many sophomores to have an enjoyable evening-one that was quite different from the usual dances.

The goal for the year, reached with the leadership of Kris Paap as president and Jack Haensel as vice-president, was to raise money for next year's prom.

Juniors Earn Money

For the 1983 school year, Dana Stein was elected Junior Class President for the second consecutive year and Dennis Gerhardstein the Junior Class Vice-President.

Spirit week 1983 was a big victory for the Junior Class. Their float took second place and they all pulled together to win the $75 prize given to the class that collected the most spirit points (a very welcomed addition to the treasury for Prom). Spirit points were awarded for doing things such as dressing up on spirit days, going to extracurricular activities, class competition, and other miscellaneous things done to show school spirit. All of the students who dressed up on spirit days were given a raffle ticket; and, the end of the week, Junior Steve Wood's number was picked in the Homecoming Assembly to win a gift certificate.

Because a great deal of money was needed for the Halloween Dance and Prom, a car wash was held over the summer that raised $178.00.

The biggest and most successful fund-raiser, however, was a pizza selling drive held in October that raised over $1,200.00 with individuals turning in over 700 orders for assorted pizzas, pizza trays and assorted pies, all provided by the "Mr. Z's" pizza company.

This secured the Junior Class for Prom and other costs, and, no more fund-raisers were necessary for the rest of the year.

Seniors Look To Future

What does the word "senior" stand for? This question has never been analyzed before, so here is our attempt at doing so:

Superiority, a quality in each and every person in the class of 1984.
Enthusiasm to face the future.

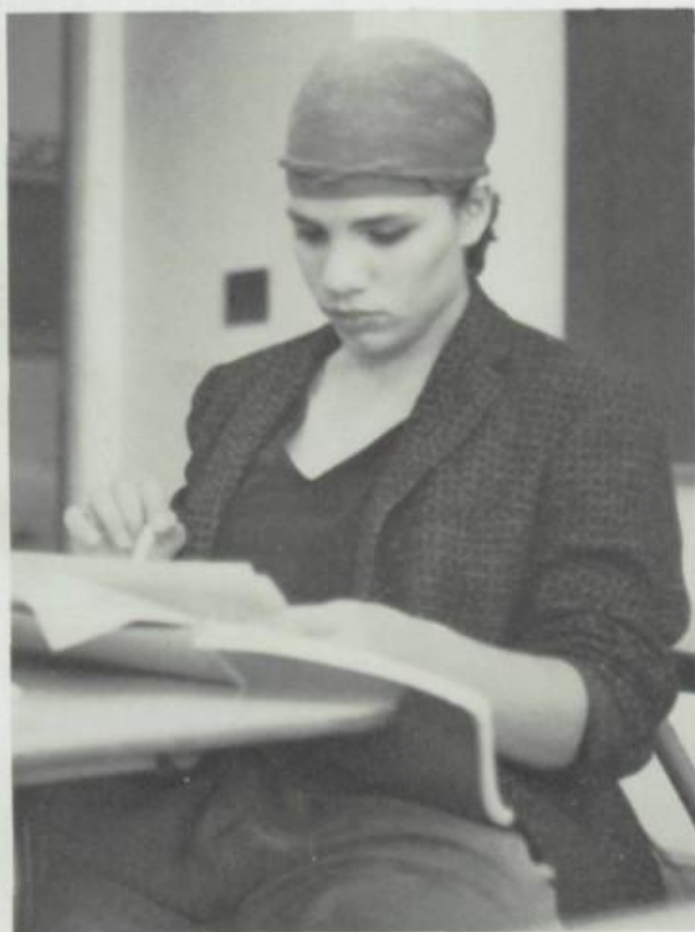

New generation. A generation which we will enlighten and influence with our ideas and actions.

Independence. Making our own decisions in creating successful lives for ourselves.

Opportunities in making the best of our newly-found independence.
Remembrance of our years spent at SHS.

Even though the aforementioned are probably not the exact definitions for a "senior," one way or another they can all be related to each of us.

Our senior year has passed, and this time is considered a breaking point in our lives. It's the end, and yet it is the beginning. It is a time for making decisions and also a time for remembering. A time for looking to the future with anticipation and excitement, though we will always cherish the memories of our years at SHS.

Football Third In Conference

The Shorewood 1983 Varsity Football Team completed its season with a conference record of 5 wins and 2 losses. This earned the team a well-deserved third place in the conference, despite an unsuccessful beginning. The turning point of the season came in the second half of the Rufus King game where the Greyhounds pulled ahead to gain their first victory after losing their first three games of the season. From that point on, the coaches, Mr. Williamson, Mr. Madsen, and Mr. Hoffeditz, felt the season was a good one.

Unfortunately, the only returning All-Conference player, Scott Jonas, was injured in the first conference game and was unable to participate in the rest of the season. However, this resulted in the discovery of new talented individuals. As quarterback, sophomore Jeff Jonas completed fifteen touchdown passes, which proved to be instrumental in many of their wins. Split end John Walker, another outstanding offensive player, lead the conference in scoring. For the Greyhounds' leading runners there were John Spector and Mike Taylor, two impressive players. Overall, the team depended on big plays for quick scoring.

For leaders, the team had this year's captains, Jimmy John Schiro and Mike Taylor. John Spector was recognized as all-around most valuable player, with Jimmy John Schiro as most valuable on defense and John Walker on offense. The title of most improved player was awarded to Jim Sadowski for his fine efforts. Representing Shorewood on this year's All-Conference Team were the Greyhounds' John Volpe and Jim Heller.

Greyhounds Beat Juneau

Again this year, Shorewood's junior varsity football team was coached by Mr. Thomas Pierce. Pierce was assisted in his efforts by David Kopps, Tim Flynt, and Bill Schmitz, a group which contributed much to the team's progress over the season.

The team, composed of freshmen and sophomore players, compiled a .500 record with three wins, three losses and one tie. The team also shared the unusual experience with the varsity football team of winning a game by forfeit when Riverside High School cancelled its football program because of a lack of players.

To the team members, the most satisfactory game of the season was the last game of the season, a 32 — 6 victory over Milwaukee Juneau High School. To them, the combination of the final game and the one-sided victory was something they could be especially proud of. To Coach Pierce, the most satisfactory game of the season was the narrow loss to Whitefish Bay, a game which ended in a 12-6 score. Pierce felt that the team worked together better in this game than in any other.

Pierce also noted that the team was burdened by the fact that the team had a difficult time maintaining any type of continuity because of losing many players for a variety of reasons.

Those players who especially contributed to the success of the team were quarterback and offensive captain, John Schleicher, defensive captain, freshman Sean Goodman, and the team's most valuable player, Aaron Goldman. Goldman was awarded his title for not only his season record of eight touchdowns and over 800 yards rushing but for his "leadership" and his "ability to carry the ball."

Kickers Stopped By Bay

The 1983 varsity boys' soccer team had a very successful season. They finished off the season with a record of five wins, four losses, and two ties. The season highlight was when the team was given the chance to play the official Homecoming Game. Traditionally, the Homecoming Game has been a football game. This year, however, the team that Shorewood was supposed to play, Riverside High School, cancelled all of their games due to their lack of a team.

lation, decided to substitute their football game with a soccer game. The idea was approved and Shorewood scheduled a match against a Class C team from the Kettle Moraine area. The Homecoming festivities went on as scheduled, and the Shorewood team went on to win the game with a score of four to one.

They ended their regular season and in the first round of Sectionals pulled off a victory by beating top rated Rufus King High School in overtime. Unfortunately, the team was stopped by Whitefish Bay High School in the second round of Sectionals. The team is very optimistic that next year will be a successful one also.

The junior varisty team finished with an average season. Their record was five wins, five losses, and one tie.

The Freshman team didn't have a very good season, but the outlook for next year is better. Their record was no wins, seven losses, and two ties.

Spikers Disappointed

The 1983 Shorewood Boys' Varsity Volleyball team ended its season with two wins, eleven losses and one forfeit. The varsity team was short on experience because most of last year's squad had graduated. Although the team lacked varsity experience, five of the nine players had returned to volleyball courts from previous years. Seniors Steve Berg, Chris Shank, Yi-Sen An, Pat Dunn and junior Roger Hill were returning players. New faces on the court were Kemi Jona, Jay Pink, Dan Baril and Angus Flynn. The coach for the varsity team, Eric Corey, was new this year also. Corey has played on the Latvian Team since the age of twelve, played on the team of the UW-Madison and has coached at Whitefish Bay for three years. He said the team was lacking good court sense and powerful hitters. However, he was greatly impressed with the aggressive effort of the players. As for next year, seven of the eight team members on the varsity squad will be graduating.

The junior varsity team was under the direction of Tim Hagen, Matt Hupperts and Scott Antony. Tim Hagen said that the team did not do as well as they would have liked and unfortunately didn't win many games. However, a more experienced team will return next year and will hopefully bring more wins to Shorewood.

This year, the SHS Girls' Varsity Volleyball Team was led by coach Tom Alber. Marie Schroeder was the captain and was also named Most Valuable Player. Jennie Roth was named Most Improved Player.

The highlight of the season was the Grafton Invitation, where Shorewood took third place. The team also took third place in the Shorewood Invitational.

In the Suburban conference of ten teams, the Greyhounds finished ninth with a 13-20 record. According to Coach Tom Alber, the team's best match of the season was against Racine Case, when Shorewood won all three games.

The team's best setters were Pam Abare, Monica O'Leary, Adele Brumfield, and Therese Palmer. The best hitting came from the team's most outstanding spikers: Marie Schroeder, Pam Jordan, Kelly Kuhs, Jean Paul, Renee Herzing, Ann Haker, Phyllis Thomas, Karen Kringel, and Beth Edwards.

Coach Alber expects that next year's team will do well even though they will be losing many senior players. These include Jean Paul, Adele Brumfield, Therese Palmer, Marie Schroeder, Beth Edwards, Karen Kringel, and Phyllis Thomas.

This year's girls' junior varsity volleyball team welcomed a new coach, Eileen Rogers. The captain of the girls' team was Margret Hayek, and Nancy Hoffman was named Most Valuable Player. The highlight of the girls' season was the Waukesha South Invitational, where Shorewood took fourth place.

The team's best setting came from Nancy Hoffman, Kathy Paul and Andrea Andresen. The best hitting came from Margret Hayek, Julie Ewens, Chris Kelly, Buffy Westlake, Kathy Rohler, Jane Penner, Ann Manger, and Jennifer Kringel.

Seven Runners Go To State

With the help of Coach Luke Groser, the 1983 boys' and girls' cross country teams finished the year successfully. The Most Honorable Captain award this year went to Xavier Leplae. Tina Horr and Matt Crysdale were elected the Most Valuable Runners, and Sarah Vandebusch and Dennis Gerhardstein were elected the Most Improved Runners. A new award was given out this year entitled the Impact Award, received by Julie Dickman and Bill Langhoff. This award went to first-time runners who ran well throughout the season.

Although the girls didn't do as well as expected in the Suburban Conference, they did, however, qualify for the W.I.A.A. Regionals. At Regionals, the girls' performance improved, placing third out of six teams, as compared to the Suburban Conference where they placed fifth out of six teams. The girls then went on to Sectionals, where they put forth a lot of effort and placed sixth out of nine teams.

The boys' team did well throughout the season. They ended their season by going to Suburban Conference where they placed third out of six teams. Once they qualified for Regionals, they put out their best effort and took first place. This first place victory qualified them for Sectionals. The boys turned out a fine performance and placed second with nine teams competing. This enabled seven members of the boys' cross country team to go to the State Meet. They were Matt Crysdale, Xavier Leplae, Kevin Roderick, Jeff Bartsch, Bill Langhoff, Dennis Gerhardstein, and Tony Marino. The team ended up coming in seventh out of ten teams. Matt Crysdale placed second overall with a time of 16:10. Xavier Leplae came in ninth finishing with a time of 16:48. Mr. Groser stated that the runners developed a sense of togetherness which would probably be the basis for their future good feelings about high school athletic competition.

Netters Fourth In Conference

The 1984 girls' tennis team had an excellent season, finishing fourth in the Suburban Conference. Shorewood girls did the impossible and proved that losing seven out of ten varsity players due to graduation did not hinder their performance against almost all class A schools. The girls this year were coached by Cheri Strother.

Lesley Artyn Keirn was the honorary captain this year and the best singles player. Lesley and Raquel Keirn were the best doubles team. Jane Coffey was elected the Junior Varsity Most Valuable Player.

1) THE 1983 GIRLS' tennis team: BACK ROW, Lisa Nelson, Sarah Dahl, Cassandra Henning, Vicki Nelson, Nancy Ruggeri, Lesley Keirn, Raquel Keirn, Sarah Williams, Leslie Abrahms, Stacie Fisher; MIDDLE ROW, Chris Stuckslager, Tomi Durgin, Jane Moloney, Jenny Keran, Laura Heiser, Jenny Phillips, Sharie Boswell, Liz Zingale; FRONT ROW, Jane Coffey, Dana Fisher, Laura Martinez, Kelly Evans, Sarah Nelson, Tami Durret, Heather Littell. 2) LESLEY KEIRN gets ready to return the ball. 3) LAURA HEISER concentrates on a net shot. 4) RAQUEL KEIRN demonstrates her winning style. 5) LIZ ZINGALE prepares to return the ball as partner Sarah Williams looks on. 6) COACH CHERI Strother checks the net's measurements before a match. 7) STACIE FISHER is satisfied with her return.

In the Suburban Conference, the team placed fourth out of eighteen teams. The team finished third in the Eastern Division, behind Whitefish Bay and Racine Horlick. Only one doubles team made it to the Sub-Sectionals and then on to the State Tournament. The two members of the team were Lesley and Raquel Keirn. At the State Tournament the team was defeated in the third round.

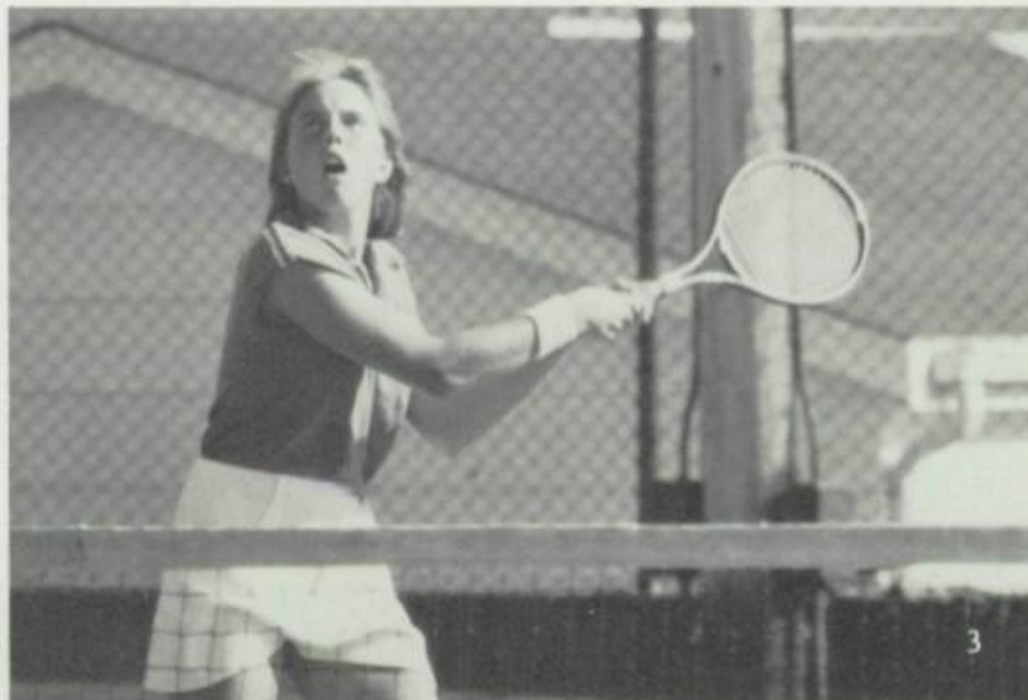

This year, the varsity team consisted of five freshman and sophomores, four juniors, and one senior. Liz Zingale and Tammy Durret were the only two freshmen on the varsity team. Laura Heiser was seated at number three singles. She was undefeated in dual meets. Leslie Abrams was seated at number four singles. She had two losses during the season. The Junior Varsity players all did well during the season, especially the freshmen. This year the team ended their dual meet season with a 6-4 record.

Coach Cheri Strother commented on the season, saying, "With a young team with so much inexperience in tournament play, they far surpassed my expectations. The team has a very promising outlook for next year."

Medley Relay Team Successful

The Shorewood Girls' Swim Team, under the leadership of Coach Peter Piaskoski, had a very competitive and exciting season, topped off with the Medley Relay team of seniors Katie Jones, Lesley Brandenburg, Cindy Piaskoski, and freshman Lisa Preston, with alternate junior, Cindy Schaum. The team earned 17 points at State. While finishing with a Dual Meet record of 4-3, the swimmers captured fourth place in the Conference Relays and were seventh out of 17 teams in Suburban Conference action.

This year's team had many highlights as well as many new school records being made or broken. Lisa Preston had a record time of 2:05.8 in the 200 yard freestyle. She also broke the 200 yard individual medly with a clocking of 2:23.2 and the 100 yard butterfly with a time of 1:04.5. Other records broken this year were the 200 medly relay with a time of 1:58.63 and the record for the 400 freestyle was broken with a new time of 3:59.326. Other highlights for the swimmers were the taking of second place at the Oak Creek Invitational and taking fifth out of nine teams in its own Shorewood High School Invitational. This was also the first year there has been a full junior-varsity team to compete in meets. All J.V. records were set by this year's squad.

Winning awards for this year's team were: Sarah Allison for the Team Spirit Award; the freshman award went to Lisa Preston; there was a tie for the most improved swimmer, received by Cindy Schaum and Jodie Tabak; the most valuable swimmer was awarded to Katie Jones.

The team will be losing several seniors. These include Katie Jones, Lesley Brandenburg, Cindy Piaskoski, and Sarah Allison. However, returning next year will be Cindy Schaum and Margaret Woloschek, who were both elected to next year's squad.

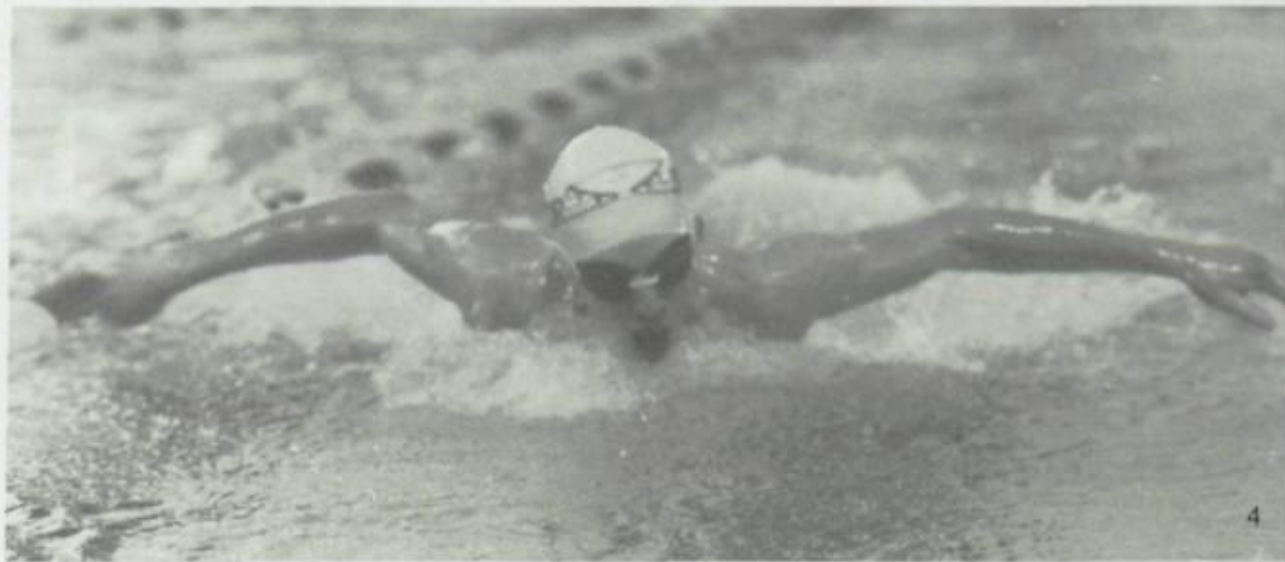

The 1983-1984 boys' swimming team had a season laced with ups and downs. The team had a hard time in the regular season, finishing with a record of two wins and nine losses, but the poor record was due to the small size of the team. There was a lot of good talent on the team this year and the performance in the Invitational and Championship meets proved this because the size of the team isn't a factor in the scoring of these meets.

The team did well in the Conference meet with many of the team members putting out a great effort and dropping their times considerably.

Swimmers Improve

In Sectionals, everyone dropped their time dramatically once again, and Ali Afshar beat all of his opponents in the backstroke by two seconds. Roger Hill and Tom Bottern also did extremely well in the 50 and 100 yard freestyles.

The Small School State meet went well also. Freshman Aaron van Oudenallen took second in the 500 yard freestyle, losing 11 seconds from his previous personal best. Brian Saunders also had a fantastic meet, taking first in both the 100 and 200 yard freestyles.

The main highlight of the season was at the State meet where Brian Saunders beat last year's champion in the 500 yard freestyle to take a first place award. This achievement won for him All-American consideration, and he made the Junior National's qualifying time. This ranked him as one of the best high school swimmers in the nation. The over-all season was one with the theme of personal improvement continually appearing and pushing the team to their victories in the final Championship meets. Every member on the team was successful in dropping their times throughout the season.

Power Team Excels

Tremendous achievement was gained by the wrestling team this year as their continued excellence made the 1983-84 season the best in ten years. The varsity team became dual champions after winning eight dual meets and losing none. The team went on to become conference tournament champions after winning at West Division High School. Shorewood left with three champions: Milton Silva-Craig, Mike Taylor and Bill Parenteau.

Following their conference tournament, Shorewood placed third in the Pewaukee Invitational, first in a meet at West Division and second at regionals at Pewaukee. From regionals, five team members qualified to go on to sectionals, which is more than have qualified in years. The five wrestlers were Mike Taylor, Bill Parenteau, Geoff Johnson, Milton Silva-Craig and Brian Locher. Taylor, Parenteau and Locher lost in the first round, but Silva-Craig and Johnson went on to place third and fourth; however, no one qualified to go to state.

Team and individual records were set by Milton Silva-Craig, breaking the record for pins; by Mike Taylor, breaking the record for take-downs; and by Bill Parenteau, who set a two point near-fall record. Coach Warren stated that throughout the season there was a three-man power team of Taylor, Parenteau and Silva-Craig.

There were three seniors on the team this year: Chris Aveni, Jim Serres and Mike Taylor. Taylor came away with a record of 24-2 and Chris Aveni with a record of 20-6. Jim Serres went to conference but was not able to finish the season because of back problems.

The team received honorable mention in Class B and ranked third in all of South-Eastern Wisconsin at one point in the season. The junior varsity team, coached by Dan Conklin, went 8-0 in duals and placed fifth in their conference meet.

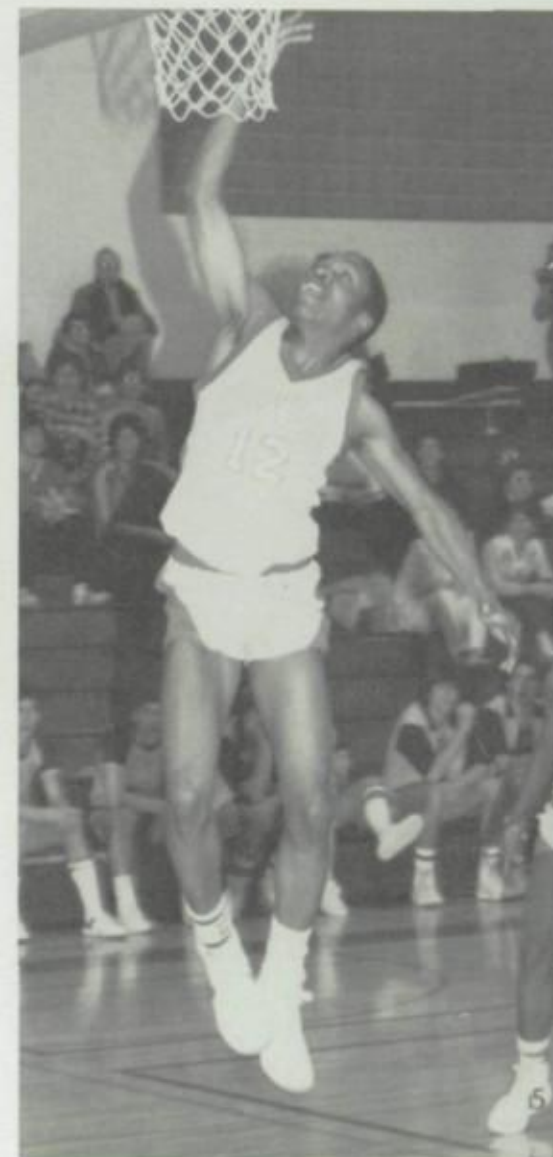

The 1983-1984 varsity boy's basketball team had a winning season. Their conference record was nine wins and seven losses, and their overall record was an even nine wins and nine losses. The high scorer for the season was Scott Jonas with 302 points; the next highest scorer was his brother Jeff Jonas, with 182 points. The Hounds did most of their scoring in the fourth quarter, and they outscored their opponents 1157 points overall to 1138 points overall. Scott Jonas had an extremely good season, leading the team in both field goals and free throws in the season percentages. Scott also led the team with 141 rebounds and tied with Jeff Jonas for the most blocked shots — each earned 26. As a whole, the team made 44% of its field goals and 63% of its freethrows. Victor Campbell had the most playing time, but close behind him were Rodney DePass, Steve Williams, Jim Sadowski, Peter John, and John Spector, each averaging at least 35% in their shooting percentages. The leading fouler was Scott Jonas with 57, but Steve Williams also had 53 fouls for the year.

The team total in rebounds was 608, in assists 265, in steals 171, in blocked shots 75, and in fouls 326.

They normally outscored their opponents in the second and third quarters. The team made a fantastic individual and team effort during the long season and made it past their first regionals game. The team then earned the title of Regional Champions after defeating Pewaukee in the Regional Finals. Shorewood then moved into the first game of Sectionals and defeated Mayville. The Hounds then played in the Sectional Finals but were defeated by Wilmot, the eventual Class B State Champs, by a score of 69-60.

The 1983-84 Shorewood JV Boys' Basketball Team completed their successful season with an impressive record of 13-5. Coach Dennis Williamson reflected that the season went basically as expected, which was quite well.

Despite the loss of one of their strongest players, Jeff Jonas, to the varsity team, the JV was supported by other talented individuals. Leading the Greyhounds was high-scoring Kevin Wilkerson as guard. Forward Sean Goodman and center Eric Hendricks also made important contributions, leading the team in rebounding.

The JV team was victorious in two very close, exciting games, both of which can be called the highlights of their season. The first was a win over rival Whitefish Bay with a score of 56-55.

The final game of the season was their second highlight where the team came back from a 14 point deficit to defeat Cudahy.

Coach Williamson felt very satisfied with the team's performance, but saw a need for the team to work in consistency. In closing, he added that this group was one of the best, potentially, that he had coached in 15 years.

Under the coaching of Donald Ness, the 9th grade boys' basketball team ended their season with a record of 5-7. The cooperation and enthusiasm of the team were great assets throughout the season.

With 15 players, the team had a good-sized number to work with. They relied mostly on their starters: Jeff Timberlake, Marty Johnson, Pat Grisar, David Hagen and Terry Graves.

The team had two main highlights of its season. The first was its defeat of Whitefish Bay in the team's second Milwaukee King who had also defeated Shorewood the first time. Overall the season was felt to be a productive and rewarding one.

This year's girls' varsity basketball team was led by Coach Luke Groser and Captain Adele Brumfield. Margaret Hayek was named Most Improved Player and the Most Spirited of the 1983-84 team was Courtenay Wilkerson. The team's leading rebounder and scorer was Laura Robison. Erika Treichel led the Hounds in steals, while Adele Brumfield led the team in assists.

The highlight of the season was when the girls won their first game against West Division. The girls took eighth place in the conference of nine teams with a 2-14 conference record and 3-17 non-conference record.

Girls Finish Eighth

1) THE 1983-84 GIRLS' VARSITY basketball team: Coach Luke Groser, Erika Treichel, Adele Brumfield, Denise Daland, Margaret Hayek, Laura Robison, Kelly Kuhs, Courtenay Wilkerson, Mary O'Brien, Jennifer Oechler. 2) ADELE BRUMFIELD tries to fake out her opponent. 3) LAURA ROBISON shoots the jumper. 4) FEELING THE PRESSURE of her opponent, Kelly Kuhs tries to pass the ball to another Hound. 5) COACH LUKE GROSER gives valuable advice to the team. 6) ERIKA TREICHEL goes for two more. 7) MARGARET HAYEK tries to shot over the defense.

According to Coach Luke Groser, "In the first half of the season, the game results made the team look hopeless, but the girls persevered and their character emerged. During the last third of the season the games were competitive. And the last week of the season demonstrated the qualities of our squad."

The squad lost two players due to knee injuries. Senior Phyllis Thomas, a returning varsity forward, was injured during the first half of the season. Junior Kelly Kuhs, however, was injured during the last third of the season. Both girls had had problems with their knees before the season began.

Even though statistically, the girls didn't do well, they thought that their season was a good one. The team felt that even though they didn't win a lot of games, they did work together as a whole team. Since all but two of the team's participants will be returning next year, the team looks forward to what they hope will be a positive season.

JV Strength Defense

The 1983-84 JV girls' basketball team developed their skills greatly; however, their record of 7-11 does not accurately portray the improvement which took place. Coach Tom Alber was very pleased with the team's effort and felt the season was a gratifying one.

The team reached its top performance in its last game of the season against West Allis Central. After trailing at halftime with a score of 16-2, the team came back amazingly in the second half and tied it up at 20-20 in the last minutes. After a successful shot in the last seconds of overtime, the JV won their decidedly most exciting game of the season with a score of 22-20.

The team's strength lay in its consistently strong defense. The offense and passing skills improved as the players started to better understand how to work together in a team effort. With the basic skills the team had and the improvement it made throughout the season, there is much potential for the years ahead.

Under Coach Larry Schober, the 9th grade girls' team finished with 6-6. Coach Schober felt the team should have had a few more wins though he was very pleased with the overall development.

The highlights of their season was felt to be their last game which was against Racine Horlick. The team achieved a 18-2 lead by the middle of the second quarter and pushed on to a 30-23 victory. Their tremendous effort and performance in the first half was felt to be their best all season.

Coach Schober stressed that all the girls were an essential part of the team. He felt that with continued practice and effort they will make a strong contribution to next year's team and varsity in the years to come.

The 1983-1984 girls' gymnastics team had a very successful year. The team consisted of thirteen members-seven were varsity members which included seniors Lisa Pumpian, Gigi Marx, Jenni Smith, and Karen Kringel, junior Kate Stearns, and sophomores Jennifer Kringel and Jennie Roth. The team was coached by Kim Martinez. The girls had a great attitude and worked hard. The junior varsity team had a good year and was coached by Kathy Pukite. Team members included Alice Bayne, Jane Patton, Jackie Toutenhoffd, Liz Ross, Liz Copnall, Jennine Shaw and Kim Gatalano.

The varsity team had a record of two wins and five losses even though Kathy Brill was lost to other commitments in the beginning of the season and many injuries did occur. Personal and team records were set by everyone on the varsity and junior varsity teams. At the Surburban Conference meet, Karen Kringel stole the show with two firsts and a second to win the all-around. Karen came in first on the vault with a score of 8.9 and on the beam with a score of 8.55. She came in second on the floor with a 8.65. Karen Kringel placed first in State for the Class B All-Around competition. She took first on the uneven bars with a 8.5. She also participated on the beam, vault and floor. Shorewood placed fifth out of eight teams with a score of 98.88. They moved up one place from last year. Even though four of the varsity members will be graduating this year, next year's team is sure to have another good year.

83/84 World

Although 1983 was a year filled with moments of happiness, pride, and hope, the world's attention was focused largely upon the destruction, bloodshed, and terror of war. As the year went on, we saw growing dangers and serious new problems around the globe, ranging from the "peacekeeping" mission in Lebanon to the invasion of Grenada. And because of these events, we were continually made aware that Americans were again at war.

In Lebanon, the U.S. was being drawn more deeply into the fighting as the year went on. On September 12, President Reagan announced that the U.S. Navy would intervene if necessary to protect the 1200 Marines on shore, and with this act, the U.S.'s role in the conflict clearly escalated. In addition, U.S. ground commanders were given authority to decide when and which type of firepower should be employed from off-shore. The move had been intended by Reagan to be a signal of his resolve to keep the Marines in Lebanon as part of the multinational peacekeeping force, whose three main objectives were to rebuild Lebanon, withdraw foreign troops, and achieve Mideast peace.

These goals were not being realized, however, and the fighting continued. Then, suddenly, on October 23, at 6:20 a.m., a truck loaded with a ton of TNT approached the Beirut International Airport and barreled through a sandbag barrier and into the courtyard of the United States Marine Headquarters. The kamikaze driver then detonated the explosives which totally destroyed the building. A few minutes later, near the center of Beirut, a second truck carrying explosives devastated a building which housed a company of French troops, killing 58 French soldiers.

Back at the airport, the rescue mission began immediately, and the search for those buried in the rubble went on for days. In the end, 241 Marines had been killed, and many more had been wounded. A pro-Iranian Shiite Moslem group, called Hizbullah, was blamed for the attacks.

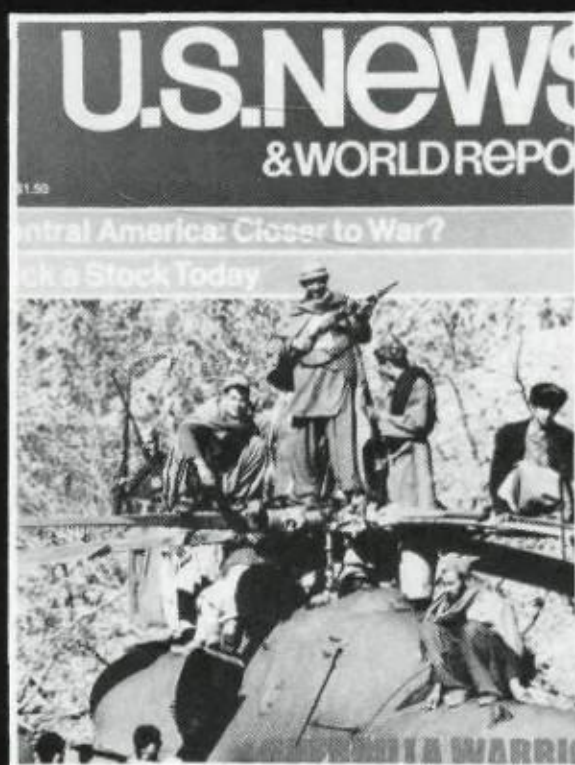

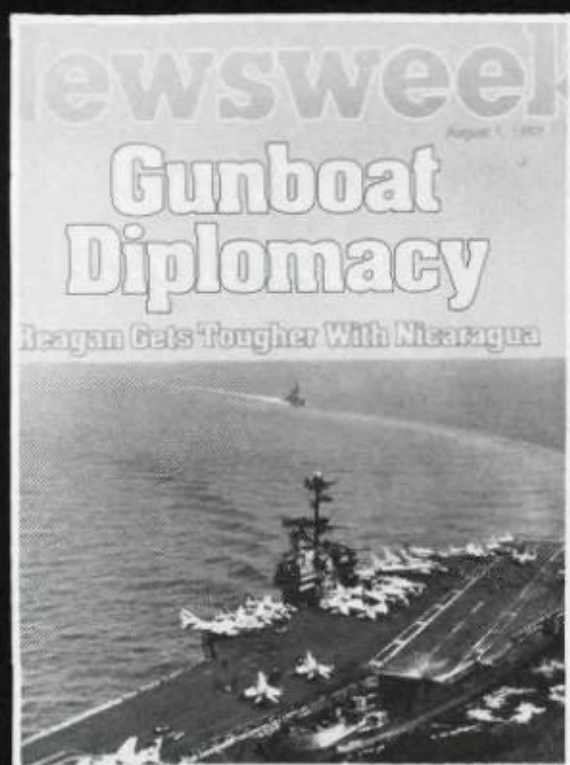

The situation continued to worsen, and the U.S. increased its naval strength off the Lebanese coast. U.S. Navy planes on reconnaissance flights over Syrian-held sections came under Syrian anti-aircraft fire. Syria then backed PLO rebels in an attack on PLO leader Yassir Arafat's last stronghold in Tripoli. Only hours after a ceasefire was declared on November 10, PLO insurgents renewed their assault. And as danger of a new eruption of violence grew, the placement of a 33-ship U.S. armada in the eastern Mediterranean was intended by Reagan to be another signal of resolve to hold his ground in Lebanon.

By December, after the fighting had continued to intensify, leaders of both parties in Congress announced they would sharply reappraise their earlier agreement to permit Reagan to keep the Marines in Lebanon until the spring of 1985.

In mid-January, pressure for a quick pullout mounted in the wake of a Pentagon report that was very critical of Washington's policy on Lebanon. In response to this growing opposition, Reagan decided on February 8 to begin evacuation of the Marines. The evacuation was completed on February 26, with the Marines being redeployed to naval ships offshore. Only about 100 Marines remained to guard the U.S. Embassy.

In addition to the events in Lebanon, American soldiers were involved in Reagan's most dramatic move in his Presidency: the invasion of Grenada - just 2 days after the Beirut bombings. The island, Reagan declared, "was a Soviet-Cuban colony being readied as a major military bastion to export terror and undermine democracies." It was the fear of such a development that prompted members of the Organization of Eastern Caribbean States to get help from the U.S. for a military move against the radical Marxists who had killed Grenada's top leaders, including Prime Minister Maurice Bishop, after a bloody coup on October 12.

These killings produced an atmosphere of violent uncertainty that posed a threat to the safety of the 1000 Americans then living on Grenada, about 800 of which were medical students there. Because of these threats, 1200 U.S. Marines, 700 U.S. Army Rangers, and more than 300 soldiers from other Caribbean nations invaded on October 25.

Surprisingly, however, the American soldiers ran into stiff resistance, and the U.S. commanders summoned reinforcements. Troop levels climbed beyond 5000. Grenada's own small army did almost no fighting, which left most of the combat to the force of Cubans described by Castro as construction workers. The 500 Cubans the Americans expected to encounter turned out, instead, to be more than 1100, armed with rifles, Soviet-made antitank weapons, antiaircraft guns and machine guns at the Point Salines airfield.

American troops also located several arms warehouses, and officials said they had found enough Soviet-made arms to equip a division.

Within a week, the main battle for Grenada was over and the island was controlled by the American troops. An interim government was set up and led by Governor-General Sir Paul Scoon. It was hoped that elections for a new government would be held by the end of 1984.

Back in Washington, however, a vote was passed by the House on Nov. 1 on a measure to remove all troops from Grenada within 60 days unless Congress granted an extension; the Senate had passed an identical measure earlier. But before the final agreement was reached, a bipartisan House delegation visited the island on a fact-finding mission. They returned, however, convinced that the invasion was justified. From then on, Congress displayed much less interest in imposing the War Powers Act.

Evacuation began only hours after the Nov. 2 declaration that all hostilities had ceased, and about 2300 of the 5500 American troops returned to the U.S. In the end, only 300 U.S. military police, technicians, and support troops were required to stay on Grenada.

The seemingly remote civil war in Central America was brought very close to home by the murder of Ct. Cmdr. A.A. Schaufelberger III in El Salvador in May. As time went on, the U.S.-backed struggle in El Salvador against leftist-led insurgents and right-wing repression rapidly got worse. Salvadoran rebels held the military initiative and hit with new firepower and mobility. Right-wing death squads reappeared in force and concentrated their threats and assassinations on the very moderates Washington was counting on to build political stability.

In order to have some questions answered about the situation in Central America, a group headed by former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger traveled to Central America in the first part of January. The Kissinger Commission on Central America reported on January 12 that: Soviet and Cuban-backed Marxist guerillas threaten American security and worldwide credibility; the U.S. should give $8 billion in support over the next 5 years to promote economic development; military aid to El Salvador should be increased, but should be linked to progress in improving human rights.

On September 1, when Korean Air Lines Flight 007 was ruthlessly destroyed by a Soviet fighter after straying into Soviet airspace, U.S.-Soviet relations were clearly jolted. This cruel act that resulted in the deaths of 269 people - 61 of them Americans - outraged the world. The Reagan administration's aim, however, was to insure that the outrage was to have been treated as an international problem. A ranking White House official said, "This is not a U.S.-Soviet issue. This is the Soviets against the world."

The U.S. called an emergency meeting of the U.N. Security Council to condemn the action and demand a full explanation from the Soviets. While admitting that their fighters had trailed the jet over Soviet airspace, they refused to be held responsible for the downing of the plane. They then charged that the airliner had been on a spy mission, a charge which caused the U.S. to say that Moscow was "flagrantly lying."

Various excuses were voiced by the Soviet Union, but the final proof was given when tapes made by the Japanese were displayed to the U.N. Security Council. The tapes quoted the Soviet pilot as saying: "I have executed the launch The target is destroyed I am breaking off attack."

The year 1983 saw growing protests against nuclear weapons in Western Europe and the U.S., with the largest peace demonstrations in European history taking place during "Action Week," from October 15-22. About 3 million people participated in about 100,000 demonstrations. Most of the protesters were directing their appeal for peace at the U.S.; however, the campaign failed. Because no agreement with the Soviet Union was reached at the Geneva arms talks, the first of the American cruise missiles were deployed in Britain in mid-November. And unless the Soviets withdraw the nearly 250 new medium-range missiles aimed at Western Europe, a total of 572 American Pershing 2 and cruise missiles will be aimed at the Soviet Union by 1988.

On November 20, nearly 39 million homes contained TVs that were tuned in to the movie "The Day After." The movie, shown on ABC, depicted the devastation of Lawrence, Kansas, in the event of a small-scale nuclear exchange. As a result, people became more aware of the threat of nuclear war, and the issue was debated in every forum imaginable across the nation - town meetings, talk shows, newspaper columns, etc. Questions were raised, such as: Can the danger of nuclear war be eliminated? If not, what is the most effective way to minimize the risk that atomic weapons will ever be used? And, how can the arms race best be brought under control? But while millions were deeply moved by the showing, polls showed little change in popular attitudes toward the issue.

November 22 marked the 20th anniversary of the death of John F. Kennedy, and 30,000 people visited his grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

On June 18, Sally Ride became the first American woman to be sent into space. She was one of the 5-member crew aboard the space shuttle Challenger that was on a 6-day mission.

Milwaukee made the headlines in 1983 when several area hackers - computer enthusiasts - were visited by FBI agents in July. They were members of the 414s and were suspected of breaking into more than 60 business and government computer systems in the U.S. and Canada, including the Los Alamos National Laboratory. As a result, high-level investigations of computer security at U.S. military and intelligence installations were ordered.

The Christmas shopping season was marked this year by an Incredible demand for a new item: the Cabbage Patch Kid. Stores throughout the nation saw rioting in the aisles, people camping overnight outside the stores to insure that they would get a doll when the stores opened, and all-around hysterical conditions. Over 2.5 million dolls were sold at about $25 each, despite the fact that nearly everyone thought the dolls were ugly.

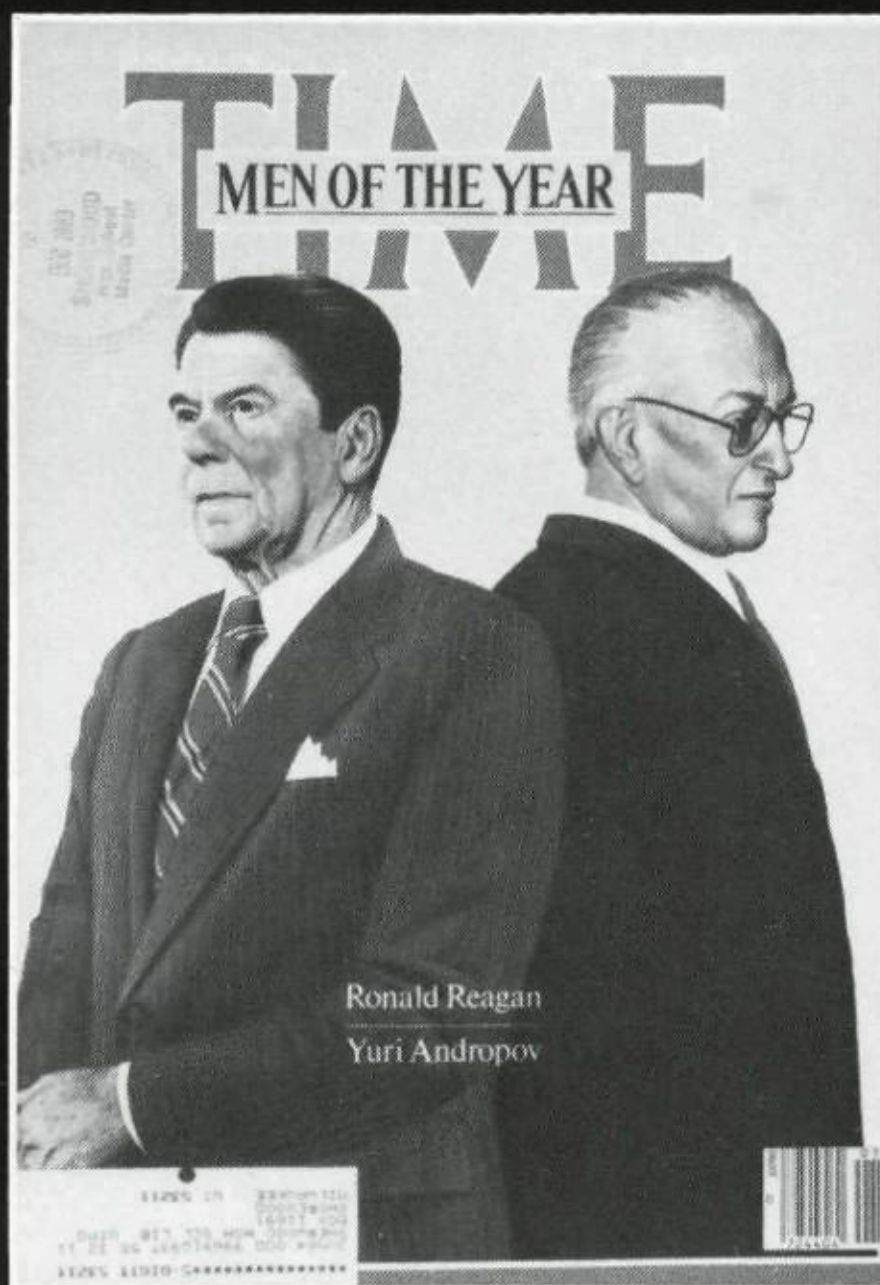

The Reagan administration saw a major change in its cabinet with the resignation of Interior Secretary James Watt. Watt had been a very controversial cabinet member because of various comments he had made and policies he had supported.

The position was then filled by William Clark.

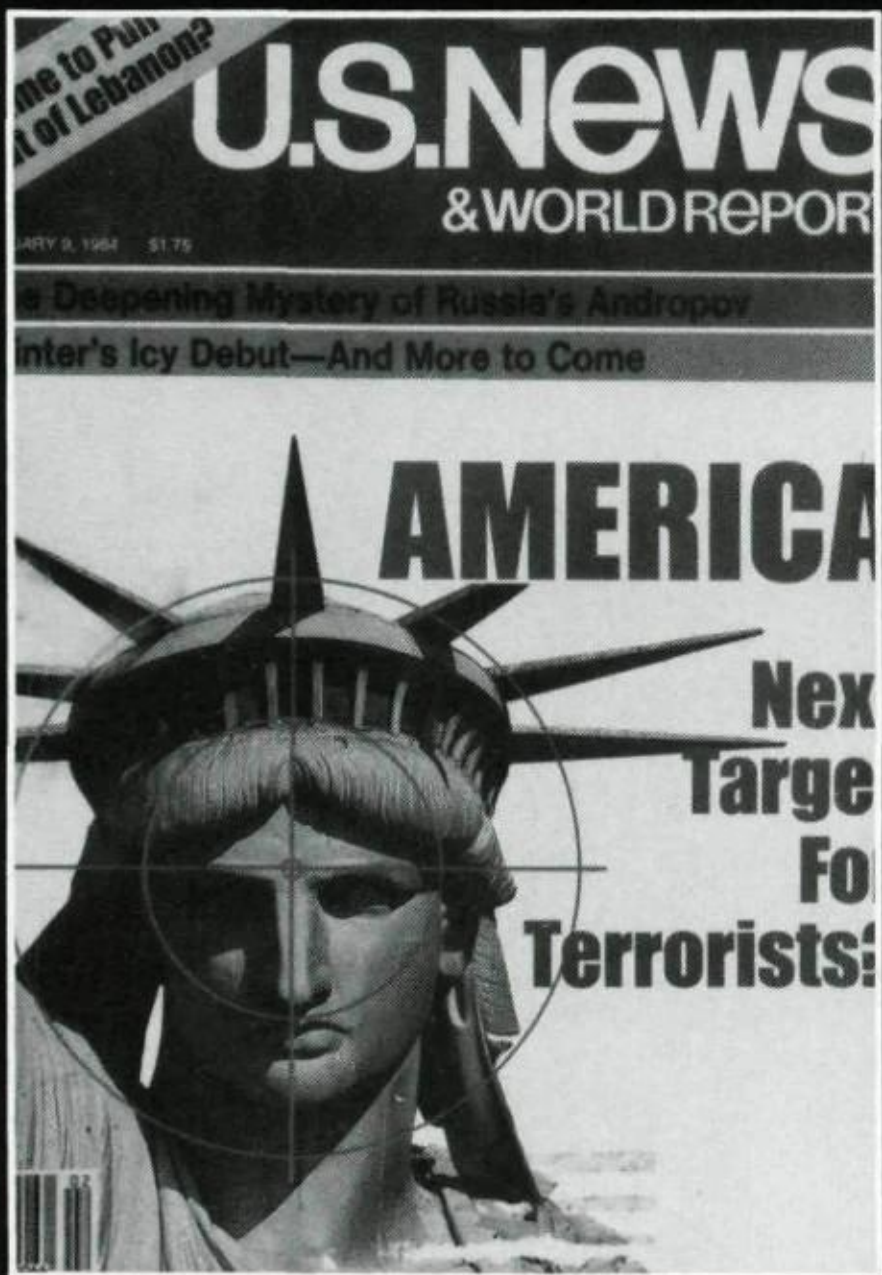

The number of homeless Americans greatly increased in 1983. It was estimated that there were anywhere from 250,000 to 2 million homeless Americans nationwide.

Despite the decrease in the civilian unemployment rate to 8% in January of 1984 - down from 8.2% in December - 9 million workers remained jobless in a labor force of 112.2 million. In addition, many economists feel that just to get unemployment down to 6%, which is thought to be the best we can expect, will require the addition of 17.5 million new jobs by 1990.

Because of the problems that faced Americans, President Reagan was definitely "feeling the heat" in 1983. One of the major reasons for Reagan's tense situation was the renewed "cold war" with the Soviets. The U.S. deployed the first of the 572 nuclear missiles in Western Europe, and Moscow, in return, mounted a counterattack aimed at intimidating America and its European allies. The Soviets then walked out of Geneva negotiations aimed at limiting intermediate-range missiles on November 23. They threatened a further escalation in the arms race, and to apply direct pressure on the U.S., they warned that seaborne missiles would be based off the American coast, within 10 minutes' striking distance of major cities.

In spite of the increased tension between the East and West, Ronald Reagan and Yuri Andropov were both named "Men of the Year" in 1983.

Many felt that Andropov's selection was ironic because he had not been seen in public since August 18. The official explanation for his absence had been that he was suffering from a cold. The mystery deepened when he failed to appear at the November 7 Revolution Day parade. Later it was learned that he was suffering from kidney disease and diabetes. Andropov died on February 9, 1984 and was replaced by Konstantin Chernenko.

The rampant terror in the Mideast in 1983 generated fears that the violence would soon spread to the U.S. Never before had authorities been so alarmed about the potential for terrorist attacks within our borders as at the end of 1983. Precautionary measures were introduced on a large scale to counter the threat. The result: Washington rapidly took on the appearance of a fortress. Concrete barriers, metal detectors, sealed doors, ID badges, searches for tourists, and expanded security forces increased all over the city. This added security was later intensified because of the hidden time bomb that damaged a corridor near the Senate chamber on November 7.

Compounding the anxiety of security officials is the fact that America in 1984 will offer terrorists four prime targets: the Olympics in Los Angeles, the World's Fair in New Orleans, and the national political conventions in Dallas and San Francisco.

As the new year of 1984 began, the nightmare scenario of George Orwell's novel 1984 was far from reality, but war, tyranny, and dehumanization still threatened a world that lived in the shadow of nuclear catastrophe. There were constant references made to Big Brother, watchful eyes, and the language of Newspeak. To many political scientists, however, the U.S. represents the political opposite of Orwell's vision. Said writer Tom Wolfe: "We are going to see and hear attempts to apply 1984 to the U.S. Orwell's state has nothing to do with the U.S."

The 1984 presidential race got started in 1983 and was highlighted by the matchup of Ronald Reagan vs. 8 Democratic candidates hoping for the nomination. The Democratic race featured 6 long shots chasing Walter Mondale, a liberal and favorite of the party establishment, and John Glenn, a moderate and former astronaut. The rest of the Democratic field consisted of Senators Alan Cranston, Gary Hart, and Ernest Hollings; former Florida Governor Reubin Askew; former Senator George McGovern; and black civil-rights activist Rev. Jesse Jackson.

A lot of interest fell upon Jackson despite his underdog status. His candidacy boosted voter interest and registration among blacks by about 3 million. In addition, Jackson was the first black candidate for presidential nomination in U.S. history.

Republicans banked on a recovering economy here and a stronger image abroad to keep Reagan in office. Reagan stressed the slowed inflation, declining unemployment, restrained interest rates, and growing sales and profits.

The Democrats, however, blamed Reagan for record federal deficits and being too quick to solve international problems with force.

Many experts felt that before the winner is chosen on November 6, 1984, the run for the presidency will have provided the U.S. and the world with American politics at its "fiercest pitch."

To my little Boy!!

There's a time in every mother's life when she must let go and say goodbye to her children. Well, goodbye sweetie and good luck!! Smiley:

We've had some bawmin'-ass times together. I'm going to miss you but you'll come see me in New York-right?! You are a fabulous person and I sincerely wish you all the luck in the world for whatever it is you pursue. I love you, little Boy.

Lo (mom)

Smurb-
I'm so glad we worked in the b store together because I got to know you. You are so special, so fun and so neat to be around. You made my days special, even on Monday mornings (I never showed up from anyway).

We may have been apart,
but the ties between us have gotten closer.

The memory of the times we have spent together shall last forever.

Thank for covering for me all those times I slipped out, you were a real sweetheart and I love you for your kindness and when I needed hugs.

Have a great life Smurb-

This will be interesting and somewhat unusual because I'm going to try to be serious. (Unlike me, huh?) I'll also try not to take up too much space. Do you remember when you and Victor and I (and others) went to see Zelig. Afterwards, in the basement (after listening to some Beethoven) ~~that~~ you started talking about ~~some things that had been bothering you (or whatever).~~ Well, really I felt somewhat uncomfortable because I thought ~~what to do or say~~ (7 months later) that I was very impressed that you could open up to say ~~never~~ know what to do or say in such situations, BUT I do want to say (especially considering I was there, too) Does this make any sense? Well, to go on, I'm glad I got to "sort-of" know you are a very nice and... neat (?) person and I will also say that I think you are this year. Sorry for all the times that I get ~~overly~~ obnoxious C.F. I to "got so) GOD! I'm rambling incredibly. This is so weird. One more thing - remember ever got so) Trivial Pursuit at Haker's on Saturdays. Good Fun! (all of us) LOTS. playing Trivial Pursuit at Haker's on Saturdays. Good Fun! (all of us) LOTS.

 RODDY
 (just so you know)

John, I get to see you both year. Come you with on Mike! That to get this we learn - a quiet lives to physics and back out of person good summer. special summer.

To Smurphy

and you are one amazing character
I really do love you though times have been real rough. To express the rest of this message I feel it only fitting to write en français.

Maintenant je suis triste parti et y'espère que c'est la même pour toi.
Il y avait des temps difficile mais enfin notre ~~sejour~~ séjour était très, très bien. Vraiment Jean, tu es très fort et je sais que tu auras du succès n'importe où! Tu es très spécial et tes expériences en college seront très bien. Toujours tu étais un bon ami pour moi et quelque jour nous irons en France ensemble.
J'espère que quand je suis à Minneapolis je peux te rendre une visite.

Tu es vraiment un chouette type!

Beaucoup d'Amour

Hi Susan!
I am really glad I met you here this year, remember the sun in costumes.
Too bad I'll be gone on our birthday, so I wish you a happy great year! Have fun!
Susan!
Love,
Lore!

What's op?
It's been awhile since I've talk to you, since Lake Bluff. I mean, with But I'm gied you were in 1st hour with me. You're a very nice guy, with alot of potential. So for it, mean's

eat summer future! Love, ♡
